

Contact: Laura Sargent

781-244-0541

Laura@HopOnReading.com

19 Hawkes Street

Marblehead, MA 01945

www.hoponreading.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: July 22, 2016

Hop On Reading Releases Series Two

MARBLEHEAD, MA - Hop On Reading, a Structured Literacy Reading Series for dyslexia, early readers and ESL students has announced Hop On Reading Series Two is now available worldwide as an ebook.

Hop On Reading practices each of the seven syllable rules and consist of 5 fully-illustrated readers including an interactive practice journal. The journal has inquiry and sensory stimulating exercises to support phonemic awareness and common spelling rules. Each series implements successfully-proven learning methods, dedicated to struggling readers worldwide. The readers, written by Laura Barr Sargent, are stories that support the Orton-Gillingham Approach to dyslexia. A family of characters created by Patti O'Hare Williams engage the reader through the pages by providing humor, familiarity and encouragement.

“Repetition and the systematic sequencing of word-building and the carefully constructed text are our tools of success.” states Ms Sargent. Hop On Reading was inspired by Ms Sargent’s education philosophy and the void she found in the market for affordable and culturally diverse reading materials.

“This type of format is essential for the struggling readers and ELL students. My students loved the stories and expressive artwork!...As a teacher I loved the way the stories built on and how quickly my students were starting to read them independently. You could see their confidences growing. Highly recommend as a supplement to whatever phonics and reading program that is being used. Great for parents to use at home to build your child’s fluency!” - Amazon Review

Hop On Reading Series One introduces the short vowel sound - Closed Syllable Rule CVC (Consonant-Vowel-Consonant) letter pattern and short vowel sound. The Practice Journal includes inquiry and sensory stimulating activities for each phonemic theme. Series One consists of 150 pages and retails for $10.99.

Hop on Reading Series Two introduces Consonant blends, Open Syllable Rule, Pronouns, Qu and X, and Digraphs (ch, sh, th, wh) and new writing skills in the Practice Journal. Series Two consists of 190 pages and retails for $10.99.

Both series are available on your favorite global network: amazon, iBook, Nook, and Kobo along with local libraries - Hoopla and Overdrive.

Laura Sargent specializes in teaching reading for children and adults with reading disabilities using Orton-Gillingham Approach and integrating the arts in her teaching methods. She holds a Masters in Education from Harvard University through the Arts in Education Program, Certified in RAVE-O -Tufts University curriculum for teaching students with Dyslexia, Certified in Dyslexia and trained in Orton-Gillingham Approach - Dyslexia Training Institute also an Integrated Listing Practitioner - Integrated Listening. Laura received her Bachelors of Music Education from the University of Montana.

Patti O'Hare Williams is an award winning artist, illustrator and graphic designer. Her intuition into fun, engaging, and stimulating illustrations are a perfect presentation for the sometimes tedious task of learning the written code.

###

Caption:

Hop On Reading reinforces successfully-proven reading methods in a culturally diverse manner, dedicated to struggling readers worldwide. Hop On Reading Series One and Two are available through your favorite global network: amazon, iBook, Nook, and Kobo along with local libraries - Hoopla and Overdrive.

DEDICATED TO STRUGGLING READERS EVERYWHERE

STRUGGLING READERS: Meet Your New Family of Friends!

Hop On Reading

New Reading Books Based on Structure Literacy Approach
For Dyslexia and Struggling Readers

Each book builds new sight words, concepts and characters. Readers will learn and enjoy the new family of friends that engage and encourage the experience of reading!

Hop On Reading Series One

Introduces the Closed Syllable Rule - CVC (Consonant- Vowel- Consonant) letter pattern and short vowel sound. The 153 paged series consists of 5 fully-illustrated readers and interactive practice journal. The journal has inquiry and sensory stimulating exercises to support each phonemic theme.

NEW!!! Hop On Reading Series Two

Frog's Pond - Consonant Blends
Dot and Dog Can Go, Go, Go - Open Syllable Rule
They Can All Have Fun - Pronouns
Quick Fox - Qu and X
Chip's Ship - Digraphs ch, sh, th, wh
192 pages including an Interactive Practice Journal

Look for Hop On Reading Series
One and Two worldwide as an ebook on all channels and local libraries!

For more information visit
www.HopOnReading.com