THIS WEEK IN REVIEW!

Happy Friday Everyone!

I hope you are having an absolutely fabulous day!
I'm a little late getting the newsletter out because yesterday we were all busy getting ready for the opening reception of our new exhibit, Life in the Abstract.

It was a fantastic evening; GVA was filled with art lovers and artists and even people just curious about the exhibit and the place we call home.

GVA even went live on Facebook during the reception.

Check out our Facebook page to see the video.

In the meantime here are a few pictures of last night's festivities:

You can see more pictures on our Facebook page and on our website.

This is an exhibit you must see.

If you didn't get to come to the opening, make sure to stop by while the exhibit is up and see it!

I had the opportunity to stop in and visit with Jennifer Broadus' Painting Techniques class on Thursday.

Her class meets Thursday afternoons 1-3pm and is a wonderful class!

Jennifer does a excellent job of instructing and giving each student one on one time as they create art!
It was such a treat to see artists in action and to watch the process.

If you would like to pARTicipate in this class, Click Here to register online or give us a call!

Feel a bit intimidated by all this? Then try one of our "Art for Non-Artists" classes.

Jennifer also teaches a one of these one night workshops that will give you a chance to get your feet wet, so to speak.

Click Here if you would like to try that class.

It meets Tuesday, May 16th!

Keep scrolling to check out all the happenings at GVA and don't forget about signing up your young artists for our summer camps!

I will be adding a featured artist section starting next week

so be on the look out for that!
Have a great weekend and see you next week at GVA!
