Letting Ourselves Be Reminded

“And lest I should be exalted above measure by the abundance of the revelations, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I be exalted above measure” (2 Corinthians 12:7).

PAUL’S THORN IN THE FLESH SERVED A UTILITARIAN PURPOSE. It was to be a simple reminder. Every time he thought about the privileges he had been granted as an apostle, the pain of his “thorn” was to remind him to remain humble. But Paul’s thorn in the flesh would not have served its purpose if he had not let himself be reminded. When he felt the pain or difficulty, Paul had to think about the purpose it was meant to serve. Otherwise, the meaning — and value — of his thorn would have been lost on him.

A similar thing may be said of the manna given to Israel in the wilderness. In Deuteronomy 8:3, Moses said, “So He humbled you, allowed you to hunger, and fed you with manna which you did not know nor did your fathers know, that He might make you know that man shall not live by bread alone; but man lives by every word that proceeds from the mouth of the Lord.” The manna was given to everybody, but the learning of its lesson was not automatic. Nobody “got it” except those who thought about it.

In the New Testament, we hear Jesus speaking of those who have “eyes to see” and “ears to hear” (Matthew 13:10-17). The point is not simply that some can see and hear while others can’t; it’s that some are too preoccupied with themselves to see and hear the truth about God. There is no such thing as a reminder so powerful that it reminds those who aren’t paying attention.

In truth, our lives are full of reminders every day. Both in our personal circumstances and in the wider world around us, there are numerous objects and events that should point us to greater things. Even with regard to the world of nature, Paul said that God “did not leave Himself without witness, in that He did good, gave us rain from heaven and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness” (Acts 14:17). But we have to pay attention and get the point. And if we don’t, we are the losers. If we fail to make the connection between the “story” and the “moral” of the story, then we will find it hard to keep in touch with God.

“Nothing happens that is not significant if you can only see the significance” (Christopher Isherwood) Gary Henry – WordPoints.co

b) fell down flat

Josh 6:12-22

12 And Joshua rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the LORD. 13 Then seven priests bearing seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD went on continually and blew with the trumpets. And the armed men went before them. But the rear guard came after the ark of the LORD, while the priests continued blowing the trumpets. 14 And the second day they marched around the city once and returned to the camp. So they did six days.

15 But it came to pass on the seventh day that they rose early, about the dawning of the day, and marched around the city seven times in the same manner. On that day only they marched around the city seven times. 16 And the seventh time it happened, when the priests blew the trumpets, that Joshua said to the people: "Shout, for the LORD has given you the city! 17 Now the city shall be doomed by the LORD to destruction, it and all who are in it. Only Rahab the harlot shall live, she and all who are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent. 18 And you, by all means abstain from the accursed things, lest you become accursed when you take of the accursed things, and make the camp of Israel a curse, and trouble it. 19 But all the silver and gold, and vessels of bronze and iron, are consecrated to the LORD; they shall come into the treasury of the LORD."

20 So the people shouted when the priests blew the trumpets. And it happened when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that the wall fell down flat. Then the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city. Josh 6:21-22
21 And they utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, ox and sheep and donkey, with the edge of the sword.
22 But Joshua had said to the two men who had spied out the country, "Go into the harlot's house, and from there bring out the woman and all that she has, as you swore to her. NKJV
