I am definitely in favor of getting the tree woman out here ASAP. With all the rain I would expect some oaks to drop branches. This is around the time it happened last year.

Hi Ken,

I think the tree person should come out. I have been seeing a few leaning trees, one close to the boy's bathroom. We talked in the off season about someone coming every 18 months but both Becca and I thought someone should come every year. Anyways lets chat about this when you get back.
