CONTRACT MANAGEMENT AS A SERVICE LAUNCHES INDUSTRY CHANGING PRODUCTS AT 35TH ANNUAL GOVERNMENT CONTRACT MANAGEMENT SYMPOSIUM (NCMA CONFERENCE)

CMBI and FAR Collaborator Software Products Showcased

The Contract Management Business Intelligence Software

Pittsburgh, PA, December 20, 2016 – Contract Management as a Service (CMaaS) debuted its proprietary Contract Management Business Intelligence (CMBI Software©) and FAR Collaborator© service which provides unparalleled contract management (CM) business intelligence to today’s business organizations. CMBI Software© and FAR Collaborator© are focused on reducing the total cost of ownership through (CM) organizational performance excellence. CMaaS introduced both products at the 35th Annual Government Contract Management Symposium sponsored by NCMA on December 12th in Washington D.C. CMaaS generated true excitement from attendees not only in the commercial/defense contracting space, but also contracting officers within various federal and state agencies.

Our CMBI Software© and FAR Collaborator© is revolutionizing the future of contract management for both commercial and government contractors who need a comprehensive “dashboard at a glance”, end-to-end contract management solution through the use of our proprietary CMBI Software© and focuses on CM at a holistic level (CM and PM) allowing a total company view of contract performance. Our FAR Collaborator© not only summarizes FAR obligations in simple terms, but allows users to identify detailed FAR requirements by contract type, including subcontractors flow-down requirements and complies with CPSR requirements. – Doug Hoover, Sales Director CMaaS

In addition to CMBI Software© and FAR Collaborator©, CMaaS also offers a business model that leverages experienced contract administrators that companies can utilize to reduce the total cost of contract management by eradicating profit leakage and increasing profit margins, allowing their contract managers to focus more on business needs and less time of routine contract administration functions.
