Live Music at its Finest

It is a fact there is no better compliment to any special occasion than live musical entertainment. Whether it's a wedding, nightclub, corporate, or any special event, a great live show will create the most pleasurable success. The feel and energy that a live performer(s) brings to an audience is an experience that no other musical format will offer. Traditionally, a big sound from a live band would require a large number of performers. Because of the wonderful technology available to musicians today, it has allowed to keep budgets down and sound quality up. How is this done?

Steve Angel Entertainment brings you the 'big sound in a small kit'. With only one to three (up to five) performers on stage, the fusion of real-live singers and musicians with DJ quality backing tracks (a.k.a the Musician-DJ Hybrid) are the only way this can be done...people and machine working together to give you the most for your money. So why not have the best of both worlds? Real musical entertainers with a DJ undertone...it not only sounds too good to be true, it sounds fabulous!

Equipment & Staging

Steve Angel's sound and light system is top of the line, with top end speakers on tripods, and bass resonance speakers at ground level to ensure uniform volume and optimum sound quality. Lighting will also be strategically placed to enhance the stage and dance floor. The stage set up is Steve Angel's pride and joy, and a great amount of time is involved to make it visually appealing - as well as acoustically perfect.

A microphone(s) will be supplied for speeches if required at no extra cost. Since the equipment is personally owned, rather than renting as most bands do, enormous care and pride is taken in the sound equipment to keep it in top condition at all times.

Steve Angel will connect with your location well in advance of your event - wedding, ceremony, party, etc..., to take care of all the details so you don't have to worry about a thing. This includes arrangements with regards to the band arrival, set up, staging and electricity. It is important that The Hall/The MC/The Band are all following the same schedule. Steve Angel's attention to detail means you have a lot less to think, and worry, about so you can simply enjoy the moment.
