

“BRINGING TRUST BACK TO MARTIN COUNTY”

Martin County resident Harold Markey has announced his candidacy for County Commission, District 4 and believes he has the skills, knowledge and experience to lead Martin County in the right direction.

Markey joined Martin County as a plumber in 1990 and worked his way up through the ranks, holding various positions in the County, before culminating his career as General Services Director. After 28 years as an award-winning employee with Martin County, Markey retired in October of 2017. During a County Commission meeting, Markey was recognized by every Martin County Commissioner for his work with the County and especially for saving the County and the taxpayers millions of dollars.

“My experience in the General Services department has given me unique insight that will serve the taxpayers well if I’m elected,” says Markey. “I’m intimately familiar with the County budget, and the spending habits of our commission. We have spent millions on lawsuits while our first responders, County infrastructure and facilities have gone on the back burner for far too long; a very costly mistake for the taxpayers. I managed my department with complete transparency and have proven my fiscal responsibility with the taxpayers hard earned dollars.” Markey managed millions of dollars throughout his career but is prouder of the millions of dollars he saved the taxpayers over the years.

Having been professionally trained in the areas of managing multiple projects, meeting deadlines and achieving objectives, communicating, maintaining strong ethics, teamwork and exceptional customer service, Markey believes he can help build consensus among local decision makers and County residents.

Markey also believes in smart-growth, as opposed to “no-growth” or “pro-growth”. “We need to support our local businesses while encouraging the right types of new businesses to locate here, businesses which meet our citizen’s needs.”

It’s not just the growth of Martin County that is critically important to Markey, as a resident who loves the local waterways, he knows that saving them requires a cohesive effort of our own County as well as neighboring communities and other governmental agencies.

Since he filed to run, Markey has been making his way around the county, meeting with residents to hear what they have to say. “One issue that is heard regularly when I go out is the residents are losing trust in their county,” said Markey. “They want more transparency and honesty from the County. They deserve it, and I want to help them get it.”

He has invested personal time in his community, both in New York and Florida, having volunteered for years as a Coach for high school varsity and Pop Warner football programs. He was the County Team Leader for American Heart Walk for two years and was named the Martin County Historic Preservation Board Preservationist of The Year in 2016. In 2017, the Disability Assistance, Inc. organization issued a proclamation thanking Markey for the outstanding work he did in making Martin County the most ADA accessible County in the State. Markey is a father and grandfather. He enjoys music, playing the guitar and he and his wife Nicole enjoy camping in their motorhome.

Markey has a very clear goal in mind. “If elected, I will work hard every day to bring trust back to the people of Martin County.”
