A Formula for Easter: Bringer + Giver = Eternal Impact

There are two exciting ways you can make an eternal difference this Easter!

Be a Bringer

Invite a friend to share the excitement of Easter Sunday worship!

This year our Easter theme is "New. Better. Life." We know that we are surrounded by people who are missing out on the life of joy, peace, hope, and purpose that God desires for them. We know that we have neighbors, co-worker, and family members whose hearts are burdened, whose families are stressed, and who could have an amazing new life in Christ.

We have invitation cards available with all of the information you need in order to easily let them know that you'd love for them to join you that Sunday. Grab some cards and show your love for them and for Jesus by inviting them!

On that Sunday, we will have our usual Community Sunrise Service in front of the church at 7:00 a.m. followed by the community breakfast that the men of our church prepare in the fellowship hall.

But it's at 9:00 & 11:00 a.m. that we hope you'll bring others to worship, celebrate, and respond to Christ's call to a NEW. BETTER. LIFE.

That Sunday morning, we'll explain how Jesus gives us a brand new, incomparably better life as we follow Him. And we will also be telling folks about the series of messages that will follow. Each week we will be showing how Jesus' gift of new life works in specific areas of life: self-confidence, family life, finances, and everyday hope and spiritual life.

So grab those invite cards, and reach out to everyone you know who is hungry for NEW. BETTER. LIFE... which is only found in the Living Lord, Jesus Christ.

Be a Giver

Help send a kid to camp, and watch God work in their lives!

Last year, six of our children gave their lives to Jesus at camp. This year, we want to send 20 children and 5 adult leaders to that same camp - CentriKid.

The cost of camp is $300 per child, so we are challenging our church family to give $5000 this Easter to provide the full cost of camp for our children and leaders. With what we have already raised, this will allow us to send them cost-free. We are planning to take children from our after-school Kids Cafe program as well as our regular WallaceKids ministry.

Worship

Pre-Easter: The Imitation of Christ

As we prepare for the celebration of the resurrection of our Lord, we will be focusing on ways in which our actions and thoughts can more closely imitate His.

April 2 - The Imitation of Christ: Our Feet
1 John 2:5-6

April 9 - The Imitation of Christ: Our Minds
Philippians 2:1-8

Easter: New. Better. Life.

The greatest celebration of the year for followers of Jesus... the day our Lord rose from the grave, victorious over sin and death... because His life brought us life – the rich, abundant, victorious life God wants every human being to have.

We will follow up our Easter Sunday message with a series of messages that detail the specific ways in which Jesus brings us New. Better. Life.

April 16 - New. Better. Life.

April 23 - New. Better. Confidence.

April 30 - New. Better. Direction.

May 7 - New. Better. Hope.

May 14 - New. Better. Family Life.

May 21 - New. Better. Finances.

Just for Laughs

Two buddies were playing golf together for the first time. They got to the first hole that had some tricky water hazards. So the first golfer reached into his bag and got out an old golf ball so that he wouldn't lose his new ball in the water.

His friend said, "Don't do that. If you're going to do well on this hole, you need to play with confidence. Put your brand new ball on the tee!"

The first man took his friend's advice, put the old ball back in his golf bag and stepped up to the tee. He teed up his shiny new golf ball and took a couple of practice swings.

When the friend saw his buddy's practice swings, he interrupted him. "I'm sorry, but after seeing those practice swings, I think you were right to use that old golf ball."

What's the difference between in-laws and outlaws?

Answer: Outlaws are wanted.

Retirement

Letter to the Congregation...

Dear Church Family,

Almost 21 years ago, you called me to become your Minister of Music and Youth. Chloe and I moved to Wallace with excitement and a strong belief that this was the place to which the Lord was leading.

Since then, we have shared in God's goodness, blessings and guiding. In 2002, you called me to become your Associate Pastor for Music and Senior Adults. Now God is leading me into the "new land" of retirement. To be able to live near our daughter, son-in-law and granddaughters is something that Chloe and I have only imagined but soon will become reality. This is an official announcement that my final Sunday as your Associate Pastor will be April 23.

You have honored and blessed us by your calling. It has been my honor to serve with you, encouraging and praying for each other and waiting so passionately to be God's people in this wonderful community.

The next few weeks will provide a time for my family to say good-bye, to celebrate the memories of our years together and to begin the process of moving forward.

God has blessed me greatly and Chloe and I look forward to the future He has for us. We praise Him for bringing us together with you and we will hold you in our hearts.

In Christ love,

Phillip B. Rivenbark
Associate Pastor for Music and Senior Adults

RETIREMENT/FAREWELL RECEPTION

For Phil and Chloe Rivenbark

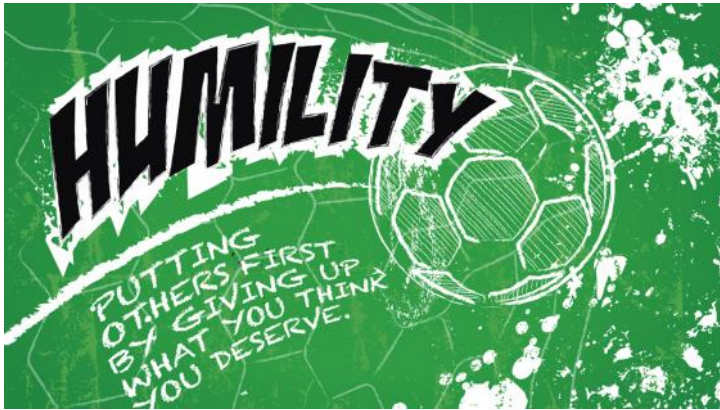

Saturday, April 22, 2017

5:00 - 7:00 p.m.

First Baptist Church
Fellowship Hall

Please bring goodies on April 22 to the Fellowship Hall from 9:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

*Cards, notes and a love offering

Humility is a response of the character of God.

God has no beginning and no end. God is the creator and sustainer of the universe. He deserves all of our worship and praise for what He has done and continues to do in our life.

On the other hand, we are humans, created by God. And while we are the crowns of God's creation, we are nothing without our Creator God.

Yet so often, we act like we are God. We allow our pride to take over and forget that any of our strengths or accomplishments would not exist without God. The only proper response in light of God's greatness is to respond with humility in our interactions with the people around us.

Jesus is the ultimate example of humility.

Jesus is the Son of God. And in the beginning, Jesus was part of creating the heavens and the earth. And as the Son of God, there is nothing in Heaven or on earth that isn't under Jesus' command. Yet Jesus chose to become one of us. He was born as a baby and walked among us. He developed calloused hands as He worked in a carpenter's shop. The dirt of the road caked His feet as He traveled to show love to others. Jesus willingly left the majesty and glory of Heaven to laugh and cry as He fully became a human.

Jesus' ultimate act of humility on Earth was His sacrificial death. He could have called down an angel army to protect Him, but instead, allowed Himself to be wrongly accused and arrested. He could have been worshipped with a gold crown and royal robes, but instead wore a crown of thorns. Jesus deserved praise and adoration, but sacrificed Himself for us.

We live in a world that's all about putting ourselves first. Jesus lived in a world like that too. He could have looked out for Himself, called 10,000 angels to come and rescue Him. But He didn't. Out of His love for us He chose the humble route and put us first. It cost Him everything.

Putting others first will cost you something: your time or money. Maybe it will cost you some pride. But when we choose to follow Jesus with our lives, believing that His death and resurrection made it possible for us to be right with God, the least we can do is put others first even if it's a bit uncomfortable and cost us something.

We think it's important, especially at Easter, for us to help our kids and families discover more about humility—putting others first by giving up what you think you deserve.

Our Memory Verse for April comes from Philippians 2:3.

In Philippians 2:3, we read, Don't do anything only to get ahead. Don't do it because you are proud. Instead, be humble. Value others more than yourselves. (NIRV)

This verse is part of a passage that describes Jesus' humility. Jesus left everything He deserved to humble Himself to save us. As we respond to Jesus' love, we can show humility as we love on those around us.

As we celebrate Jesus' life, death, and resurrection this Easter season, we'll be taking a closer look at the way humility shows up throughout the end of Jesus' time on earth.

Wallace Students

One of the strengths of youth ministry through the years has been its ability to adapt to whatever is needed by the culture at the time. In fact, over the years I've often referred to student ministry as the research and development department of the church. Sacred cows are few and far between as most churches are willing to take an "at all costs" approach to reaching the teens in their community where they aren't so ready to make those moves in the church ministries at large.

Well, we're at it again! I know, just what you wanted to hear, right? MORE CHANGES! Only this time, these changes are in line with other moves already being made by our adult ministries. That's right! Our adults have beaten the youth to the punch.

Starting at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, April 2, we will begin having our youth worship service once a month. This service will be called AMPLIFY. All of the things that make our youth service so great will continue at this once a month AMPLIFY service. So what will we be doing the rest of the month? I'm glad you asked. This is where we take a page from the adult ministries ongoing in our church.

Our student leadership team feels very strongly that we need a small group structure that will allow them to study the Bible together while having the ability to influence friends that would be more likely to join them at their house than at the church. Then, after a while, our students could get them to come to our monthly youth service with the hope that we would then be able to connect them to our church as a whole. Sidenote: There have been weeks recently where we had more teens at the 9:00 a.m. service than at our youth service on Sunday night. That's both exciting and challenging to us as a church body. It could indicate that if we offer something teens connect with in weekly worship that they would prefer to be with the full body of believers as opposed to by themselves.

Middle school and high school small groups will meet at host homes (to be determined) each Sunday afternoon/evening and work through a quick Bible reading plan and prayer time. Many churches are using this format now with much success when it comes to reaching lost teens.

This new format will run for a short trial period until our summer TRIBES program starts on June 4. At that time, we'll evaluate everything and see what changes need to be made, if any, to ensure that we are giving our students the best possible avenue to connect with God, encourage other believers, and carry the message of Christ to a lost world. Then AMPLIFY would continue the first Sunday in August as we sign up for a new semester of student small groups.

Please be in prayer for our students, the hosts of our small groups, and for the students that will hear the Gospel, perhaps for the first time, through this new approach.

Church Plant

The 1%

I could fill this entire newsletter with Scripture references and commentary showing that church planting is an activity worthy of our response and support. The book of Acts is basically a journal on the activities of the first Christians planting churches in cities and towns all over their region. The rest of the New Testament is largely made up of Paul's letters back to churches that he was responsible for planting on his missionary journeys. In fact, we are here today, worshipping as First Baptist Church in Wallace, North Carolina because of the planting efforts that not only happened by those great heroes of our faith, but because those efforts have continued for over two thousand years in cities and towns all across the world.

Church Plant

So, instead of sharing every piece of Scripture with you to support the cause of planting churches, let me share with you this one passage from Luke 15:

Tax collectors and other notorious sinners often came to listen to Jesus teach. This made the Pharisees and teachers of religious law complain that he was associating with such sinful people—even eating with them! So Jesus told them this story: “If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them gets lost, what will he do? Won’t he leave the ninety-nine others in the wilderness and go to search for the one that is lost until he finds it? And when he has found it, he will joyfully carry it home on his shoulders. When he arrives, he will call together his friends and neighbors, saying, ‘Rejoice with me because I have found my lost sheep.’ In the same way, there is more joy in heaven over one lost sinner who repents and returns to God than over ninety-nine others who are righteous and haven’t strayed away! “Or suppose a woman has ten silver coins^[a] and loses one. Won’t she light a lamp and sweep the entire house and search carefully until she finds it? And when she finds it, she will call in her friends and neighbors and say, ‘Rejoice with me because I have found my lost coin.’ In the same way, there is joy in the presence of God’s angels when even one sinner repents.”

Most of us are familiar with the parables of the lost sheep and lost coin. However, after 16 years in ministry, I’m amazed at how many times we don’t take the mind of our Father into account when we plan our church calendars and budgets (but that’s another topic for another article).

A few things that we should notice:

1. Jesus left the religious to gather with sinful people Yes, we are all sinful people, even after experiencing God’s grace. And yes, God still desires to be directly involved in our lives as believers. That’s not the point here. The point of this passage is that God desires the pursuit of the entirety of his flock. We get comfortable when the church begins to get full or our friends have all joined up, gotten saved, and are hanging out with us in Bible study now. But that wasn’t the heart of Jesus. Even with 99% of the sheep safe and sound, Jesus told us that the heart of heaven is to go and find the 1% that is lost.

2. The intensity of the search Notice that in neither story did the person who had lost something quit searching until it was found. They didn’t reach a point where they said, “Well, we’ve looked everywhere we know to look...we’ve done everything we know to do” and then give up trying to find that which was lost. No, they searched until they found what they were looking for.

“But James, we’ll never be able to reach every single lost person on the planet.” Ah! Now you’re getting it! As long as there is breath in our lungs, our job is to be searching. We are called to be the hands and feet of Jesus on this earth. What were the hands and feet of Jesus doing while he was here? He came to “seek and save” those who are lost.

3. Our source of joy If we are believers on our way to spend eternity with our Heavenly Father, then doesn’t it make sense that we should be happy about the things that make heaven happy? I think it does. Notice the source of pure joy that is shown not for the sheep or the coin, but for the sinner who repents. Where is that joy in our churches today?

We get happy about all the believers coming back to see us at homecoming. We are fired up about a laser tag or bowling trip. The excitement builds for a year for the next bus trip. That’s not to say that any of those things are bad. They aren’t. Those are great fellowship opportunities that we have as brothers and sisters in Christ.

My point is that our excitement pales in comparison when a lost person accepts Christ and comes to know him. That is a fact that has been publicly on display in the last year in our church (again, another topic for another article).

Could it be that our excitement isn’t where it should be for the lost coming to know Jesus because we haven’t expended very much energy in looking for them?

If we were honest with ourselves as believers and as a church, we haven’t done a whole lot to “sweep the entire house and look carefully” when it comes to finding and reaching the lost. And because we haven’t, we simply can’t be overjoyed when they come to know Jesus.

That’s why church planting is so important to what we are doing as a church. Churches don’t just magically pop up here and there. They are birthed out of the heart and desire of people in churches who have decided to do whatever it takes to reach the lost.

Next month, I’ll share with you some alarming statistics regarding the church in America, however, I’ve also got some very promising statistics for churches that decide to plant churches. And I’ll tell you specifically what we can do as a church to carry our weight in this church planting journey. Until then, as we approach Easter, make it your personal prayer that God would break your heart for the lost in such a way that you could be truly overjoyed when we finally find them and bring them home.

As parents you are the single greatest influence in your child's life. You are under surveillance 24/7 from your child. Did you know that parents only spend an average of 7 minutes per day talking with their child?

Our Intentional Parenting class meets Sundays at 10:00 a.m. in the Parlor. You are welcome to participate any Sunday you are free as each week has a separate topic.

Girls' Night Out

Appetizers, Desserts, Games, Talking, Sharing, Laughing...April 7th, at 6:30 p.m.

Watch out! You might see a different side of some of these ladies, as they can get a bit competitive! And if you would just like to sit around and talk, that is ok too!!!

Bible Profilers

An exciting Thursday Night life group for Women to get connected, build relationships and do life together. We meet a little before 7:00 p.m. every other Thursday at Judy Marshburn's house and snack on some delicious goodies both store bought and home made while conversing with each other about our week. We pray for one another and share lots of laughs as a prelude to our study.

Our study gives us an inside look at different characters in the Bible. We have some great story tellers and fact checkers who send us back in time to really see how our hero/heroine or maybe not so heroic character plays into the Bible history. As of now our theme is "Slightly Bad Girls of the Bible" by Liz Curtis Higgs. For more information contact Judy Marshburn or Penny Ross.

Kids Café

Want a great way to connect with God's work? There is no better way than helping children be successful in school and helping them learn about Jesus Christ. We can use your help to work with elementary children with their homework, recreation, Bible lessons, or enrichment (art, music, etc.) or just be a mentor for them Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. You can volunteer either day or both. We can use you if only for part of the time.

If you can help, please contact Charlie Blanchard at 910-284-3080 or email topsail118@charter.net or Donna Marshburn at 910-289-8392 and we will get you started.
