

NWD Professional Church Worker Conference
October 26, 2017
Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, Weston

The theme for our one-day Professional Church Worker Conference is “Thrive” coming from John as he reminds us of his experience with God’s steadfast support...

“I came that they may have life and have it abundantly.”
John 10:10b.

This conference will focus on the abundant, overflowing life given to men through Jesus. We are reminded of David’s psalm singing of the “green pastures” and “waters of rest” and “prepared table” and “overflowing cup”.

Planned keynote speaker and worship leader is Travis Guse, pastor at St. John Lutheran in Idaho Falls. He will be focusing on his passion as a coach to empower people, organizations and ministries to thrive in all aspects of their life and mission for the sake of the Kingdom.

Chap Clark, professor of Youth, Family, and Culture at Fuller Seminary, will be speaking about his co-authored book “Sticky Faith”. This book is geared to spark a movement that empowers adults to develop robust and long-term “Sticky” faith in kids of all ages. A complimentary copy of “Sticky Faith: Everyday Ideas to Build Lasting Faith in Your Kids” will be provided to all participants.

The cost for this conference will be $40. You are welcome to check-in at your hotel on Wednesday evening and enjoy fellowship with other church workers on your own. Registration opens at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday morning. The conference will open at 9:00 a.m. with worship and conclude at 5:00 p.m. Full registration materials and hotel information will be sent to all congregations and schools in August 2017.
