

How To Annotate

1. Number paragraphs #1, #2, #3, etc.
This makes discussion much easier.
2. Circle any vocabulary words that you are unfamiliar with, don't use regularly, or have trouble explaining to others
3. Underline key phrases(something that strikes you-might be dialogue, might be narration)
4. Highlight the story's events in yellow
5. Highlight word patterns and word choice in orange
6. Write questions in the margins. Remember, a question is not something you ask because you don't know, but because you want to know more. Questions are good!
7. Go back to title-Why do you think the author used this title? Write a note near the title.
