The instructors include ocean lifeguards, swim coaches, physical therapists and experts in adaptive training who are passionate about positively impacting the quality of life for all participants and helping them overcome any challenges keeping them from joining others in the water.

We believe that the ocean connects and unifies us all. We believe that by helping every member of our community discover their own personal connection to our natural waters we can create a sustainable, positive shift in how our daily choices and actions enhance, preserve, protect and promote the health and well being of the marine environment, our communities and ourselves.
