Description

This high school class will examine economics at its most basic, introductory level. We will focus on the fundamentals of economics, and discover how economic principles apply to our daily lives. We will study aspects of macroeconomics (economics on a global scale) as well as complete exercises in microeconomics (economics on a smaller, or more personal scale). In addition, the class will also consider some of the historical development of economic theory and economic systems. We will use the Notgrass Exploring Economics text with modifications, and supplement with additional relevant materials.

Tuition & Fees

My class tuition is $50 per month per student if you are paying monthly. There is a nice discount if you pay for the first semester at registration and the entire second semester in January. A discount also applies if you pay for the whole year in August. If you decide to remove your student(s) before the end of the semester, tuition for the entire semester is still required.

There is a supply fee of $50 per student to cover the cost of books and materials, which I will supply, in addition to the textbook. The textbook must be returned to me at the end of the course in order to avoid a replacement charge. The supply fee is not refundable.
