GIVING TO THE PROSTATE PROJECT

We urgently need regular donations so that we can continue our valuable work. Please help us. No matter how small your gift, we will value it and you will be helping prostate cancer sufferers and their families.

The Prostate Project is a registered charity supporting The Royal Surrey County Hospital, St Luke's Cancer Centre, Frimley Park Hospital and the Oncology Team at the University of Surrey in funding facilities and research for the detection and treatment of prostate cancer

Ways you can help us

Ways you can help us financially:

- Make a donation:
One off direct donation by cash or cheque or regular giving by standing order. These methods can be Gift Aided, which increases the amount donated by 25%
- Leave us a legacy. Please do put our charity in your will. It is tax effective and it will leave a lasting legacy for future generations.
- 'Give As You Earn'. Contact us for our Reference/Charity number and your employer will deduct your donation at source before tax.
- Transfer shares. This avoids you paying Inheritance Tax and Capital Gains Tax.

Facts about the Prostate Project

The Prostate Project is a registered charity established in 1998. We pride ourselves in being run largely by volunteers and keeping administration costs below 4%.

We support the Royal Surrey County Hospital, St Luke's Cancer Centre and Frimley Park Hospital in their efforts to detect and treat prostate cancer. The funds we have raised have provided equipment, specialist nursing staff and an active patient support group. Our efforts have been a significant factor in these hospitals becoming 'Centres of Excellence'.

Our research initiative, launched in 2006 at the University of Surrey, has grown to become the largest charity funded prostate cancer research group in the UK. Currently 23 strong, the Prostate Project team are producing results of international importance including the development of antibodies against targets on the surface of prostate cancers, the development of vaccines from the patient's own immune cells and the use of a potential new marker in urine to identify the presence of prostate cancer.

The continuing aims of the Project are:

- To raise awareness, particularly amongst men, of the existence of prostate cancer, its symptoms and its potential adverse effect
- To encourage wider recognition of the symptoms of the disease and swifter action in seeking GP's advice
- To fund state of the art equipment and specialist staff to support Urologists in achieving early diagnosis and rapid treatment
- To push forward the boundaries of knowledge about prostate cancer by initiating a world class programme of research
- To help fund the building of a world-class model NHS Urology Centre at the Royal Surrey County Hospital
