

Frances Bradshaw Schreuder had made her decision: Her wealthy father had to die. She chose the one assassin who couldn't refuse her: her seventeen-year-old son.