BY DR. ANTHONY KLEINSMITH / As a pioneer in natural anti-aging medicine, I learned long ago that human growth hormone was initially found in colostrum. From that point forward, I began to learn everything possible about nature's first milk. I have combined nature's true first milking colostrum base with nature's most powerful anti-aging discoveries that promise to keep you young and your systems optimized.

Immune-Tree is proud to offer LimuZ6 Plus, a product designed to positively impact four major body systems: immune, endocrine, nervous and pineal. This wonderful product provides all the essential nutrients a body requires to heal and repair—and you feel its effects almost immediately, thanks to its isotonic technology.

Gifts from the Sea—Laminaria Japonica, Fucoidan and Fucoxanthin

The natives of Hachijo in Japan, or the Island of Longevity, live long, healthy lives thanks to Mother Nature's gifts from the sea: Laminaria Japonica, a native brown kelp rich in polysaccharides and trace minerals, certainly is nature's detoxifying superfood; fucoidan, a complex polysaccharide, helps boost the immune system and positively effect cholesterol, blood pressure, blood sugar and liver and thyroid levels; fucoxanthin, derived from brown kelp, that regulates the uncoupling protein 1, or UCP1, which burns belly fat. More than 700 scientific studies document the benefits of this brown kelp.

Acai Berry Pulp Extract

Used by the natives of Brazil for many generations to aid the body in achieving weight loss, improving digestion, skin complexion and overcoming sexual dysfunction and insomnia, the acai berry pulp is extremely high in antioxidants and rich in essential fatty acids, amino acids, electrolytes, protein, carotenes, B vitamins and is a natural source of vitamin E.

Zeolite

Zeolites are unique complex crystalline minerals that form honeycomb-like cell structures that trap and bind toxins such as heavy metals, viral particles and other impurities, then remove them safely from your body. Zeolite absorbs toxins in food that are created by molds and microscopic parasites. It can easily absorb ammonia, methane and other toxic gases from air and water and your gastrointestinal tract, thus relieving irritable bowel syndrome and digestive gas.

Compliments of:

Acetyl-L-Carnitine

Natural levels of acetyl-L-carnitine are found in the brain, liver and kidneys but diminish as we age. Hundreds of scientific studies have demonstrated the power of acetyl-L-carnitine to enhance cognition, mental focus and clarity.

Colostrum—Nature's Gold

Colostrum is Mother Nature's perfectly formed, natural nanotechnology containing more than 700 anti-aging, immune, metabolic and essential factors, vitamins, enzymes and antioxidants in their whole-food forms. Colostrum equals rejuvenation and regeneration! With more than 25,000 research articles demonstrating its immune, endocrine, nervous system and pineal gland support, colostrum may just be one of the most studied substances on the planet. It is a rich source of growth factors that help to repair muscles and tissues and is excellent for the gastrointestinal tract's membrane, thus reducing allergic reactions by transitory food particles. LimuZ6 Plus contains Immune-Tree-certified first-milking colostrum.
