

MARS UP CHURCH

We are your hometown church: Faithful to Tradition, Loving in Fellowship & Reaching for Tomorrow!

July/ August 2017

Not long ago while praying, the word “different” kept returning to my thoughts. As Christians, we are called to be different than others who are not followers of Jesus. We are called to be different than our society. We are called to be different than what we once were, before encountering Jesus. We are even called to be different than what we are now. As followers of Jesus Christ, we are called to live by different standards, values, and ethics. God wishes to lead us in maturing our faith and commitment. One of the terms Christians have used to describe this process as “sanctification”. As we mature in our faith, God “moves in us” and “creates within us a clean heart”, a different heart. The Holy Spirit leads us into different paths of life and ministry and perhaps, even different ministry. Different. I admit I don’t always like different things. I like things that are comfortable and routine. Yet, my life is rarely routine and I suspect neither is yours. We are all going through different things, things which make us anxious, fearful, and stressed. But as Christ-followers, going through different things, we can ultimately trust and rely on God. Different. How is God working in your life, in the life of this congregation, in your spiritual walk to be different tomorrow than you are today?
