GEORGE KLEIN AND ASSOCIATES STRIKE
OIL NEAR HOUSTON

A company organized by George Klein has struck a 488-barrel oil well near Houston. Mr. Klein is a son of Mr. and Mrs. August Klein, of this city, and is employed in the Houston National Exchange Bank.

The well was brought in this week.
Mr. Klein and five other young men are the stockholders in the company which owns it. The oil is bringing 70 cents a barrel, making the returns, from a day's flow nearly $350.

The company owns extensive leases, and will bore other wells.

FORTY-EIGHT DOLLARS IS MARKET PRICE OF GEORGIA COTTONSEED

Fifty dollars, the highest price ever received, was paid for a ton of cotton seed in Alabama a few days ago, while $45 to $48 is the prevailing market price of the product in that state and a number of other states.

P. R. Smis, of this city, received a letter yesterday from his father, M. M.
Smis, of Washington, Georgia, stating that cotton seed was bringing $48 a ton in Washington and that the product was being held there for even a higher price.

Miss Faulkner Entertains.

The S. S. Club gave a delightful Five Hundred party yesterday afternoon with Miss Lucille Faulkner as its charming hostess. The house decorations, cards and refreshments were all typical of the Halloween season.
The club prize was won by Miss Mary Louise Gramann and the guest's prize by Miss Gertrude Richey. A dainty salad course was served. The following were in attendance:

Misses Dorothy Howard, Olivary Malsch, Mary Marmon, Grace McFarland, Gladys Jordan, Irma Richey, Dolores Welder, Barbara Wertheimer, Nellie Wood, Margaret Wood, Corinne Wood, Helen Burman, Mary Louise Gramann, Annie Gramann, Susie Maud Ward, Gertrude Richey and Lucille Faulkner.

rella Corsets. Mrs. O. D. Feland.

MRS. J. M. BROWNSON, RETIRING PRESIDENT
U. D. C. IS HONORED

One of the most pleasing social events of the week was the informal reception given at the home of Mrs.
F. R. Pridham under the auspices of the William P. Rogers Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in honor of Mrs. J. M. Brownson, the retiring president of the chapter.

Since the erection of this handsome home it has even been noted for its many hospitalities. However, none has been the scene of more joy and unlimited happiness than on this occasion.

The only decorations were flowers, the fragrance of which filled the rooms. The beautiful Confederate rose was used in profusion, and some sweet fairy in Flowerland must have breathed the thought that they too were to honor her who has always given "The Cause" her very best.
Therefore had the best come back to her.

Mrs. Brownson has always been one of Victoria's most untiring workers for the betterment of mankind, and as the beloved president throughout her entire term of service was unfailing and gracious to everybody, never losing patience, and having a host of friends of both sexes, of all ages and sizes, whose pleasure it is to render her assistance.

No program was arranged, but after a hearty welcome had been given the guests and "howdy dos" were said, Mrs. Julia Rose Anderson, also a faithful and untiring worker, in a very graceful manner, in terms of lovely praise and tribute, told why the surprise was given.

Mrs. Brownson said in response that she was so completely overcome with emotion that words could not express her joy. She was then literally showered with flowers. If the angels were looking down at the moment, surely there was whispering among them that a sweeter or more beautiful picture was never seen than our fair honoree surrounded by such messages of love as is spoken in the language of flowers.

Mrs. Pridham, in her soft, caressing voice, the inheritance to which all Southern women are born; in her charming, hospitable and warm-hearted way, told of her love for the Southland, and what a pleasure it was to her to open her home on such an auspicious occasion.

Rev. C. Herbert Reese, friend and comrade to all, then paid a glowing tribute to the daughters, their hopes and achievements, and the great and good work they are accomplishing.
To have credence our words must "ring true" and the encouraging words of Mr. Reese will prove an inspiration.

Mrs. Brownson being unable to arise because of the avalanche of flowers, requested Mrs. W. E. Cooke to respond, which, although unprepared, she did in a historical, patriotic, forceful and artistic manner.

Mrs. J. L. Dupree, the happy donor of the exquisite Confederate roses, told the legend of these pretty flowers which are so dear to the heart of every Southerner.

After this a delectable refreshment plate was served each merry guest, which concluded a gathering where all was love and contentment.

ces granted this term as compared with thirty-eight during the March (1915)

Bruckmuller, a young farmer living near here, while feeding a hay press and using his feet to tramp the hay down, had one of his feet badly crushed. When others realized his danger an attempt was made to stop the mules and they were started the wrong way, crushing his leg more seriously. It was nearly fifty minutes before he could be released. The man received immediate medical treatment and an attempt is being made to save the limb.

SPORT NOTES

The world champion Red Sox have the unique distinction of never losing a world's championship series. Their toughest fight was against Pittsburgh, in 1903, when they took four straight after losing three.

The stage is set at Boston for the world's championship at 14.1 balkline, with Willie Hoppe defending the billiard title against Koji Yamada, the Jap expert. Play begins tonight, and the odds favor Hoppe.

meet, a week from yesterday.

claims made, and many claimants for the first honors.

The big elevents are having their quent than ever.
