Class Date: TBD (9:00 AM - 5 PM)

Class Location: Varies (Shooting Qualifier will be held at Eagle Gun Range)

Course Cost: $125.00 per person (Online Pre-Pay Discount) $106.25 per person

Course Description

No class time is available to teach basic shooting skills. If you believe you cannot pass the proficiency test with a score of 175/250, (70%) or better, you should consider enrolling in our basic learn to shoot class. One on one sessions are available.

The law portion of class is 5 hours per new regulation (effective 10/2013). This does not include written testing or shooting qualification. Please plan on being in the class for at least 7-8 hours.

To apply for a Concealed Handgun License in Texas you must be:

- A resident of Texas.

- 21 and legally able to buy a handgun under both Federal and State law.

- Not judged to be chemically dependent or of unsound mind.

- Not ever convicted of a felony anywhere, and no convictions of a Class A or B misdemeanor in the past 5 years.

- Not subject to a restraining or protective order.

- Not delinquent in payment of taxes, child support or any money collected by any Texas Governmental entity.

- Out of state residents may apply for a non-resident license if they meet all other requirements listed above.

You must qualify using a .32 caliber or larger. If you qualify with a Semi-Auto or a Revolver you may carry any type or caliber handgun.

The shooting proficiency test will consist of 50 rounds of timed fire on the state specified target. 20 rounds at 3 yards 20 rounds at 7 yards and 10 rounds at 15 yards.
