THE KAP ANIMALS ARE EDUCATION AMBASSADORS TO HELP CHILDREN LEARN.

The animals in our presentations help keep kids (and adults) interested and engaged! The inclusion and use of animals in our programs significantly helps most learners to better retain new information.

Utilizing animals in education is useful when comparing different species & behaviors alongside one another. It is also useful when discussing ecosystems & habitat loss – to show children some of the animals that live in those places. Animals help young children learn about animal responsibility while also helping students of all ages learn a wide range of topics including science, biology, conservation & extinction issues.
