

League of Women Voters of Warren County

To have effective League activity in a community; is to understand how local government works. A local LWW Observer Corps (or 'League Observer') is the eyes and ears of the League, learning how government works and about issues that are or may become items for local study and action. Consistent League presence at these meetings can add to the League's visibility and credibility. That's why our local LWW would like to re-invigorate our Observer Corps. Below are a list of Warren County Commissioner and City Council Meetings. We are looking for volunteers who are willing to attend a few (or more) of the following meetings. If you are able please volunteer below.
