Who are the Warrior Saints?

Also called soldier saints, these are a group of saints who were generally soldiers in life, martyrs to Christ in death, and then latterly revealed as our heavenly protectors.

The name "Soldier Saints" is misleading, as this is merely a description of their appearance in icons, and not the reason for their sainthood. As mentioned above, the Soldier Saints are almost without exception martyrs, mainly from the early centuries of the Christian Church when the Roman Empire was still pagan. Their prototype was Holy Martyr Longinus, the centurion who witnessed the Crucifixion and confessed before everyone, "Truly this was the Son of God" (Mt. 27:54). Church history relates that after the crucifixion, having come to believe in the Savior, Longinus received Baptism from the apostles, left military service, returned home to Cappadocia, and was ultimately beheaded for preaching the Gospel. Their steadfastness caused thousands to convert: those who saw their tortures, those who heard about them, and even some of those ordered to carry out their execution. The stories of their lives flourished in the 4th century and post-mortem miracles have ensured their popularity continues even until today.
