Dad gives son big wedding gift

One Virginia man got the ultimate wedding present from his father—a lottery ticket worth $1 million. Following his April wedding, Aaron Andrews and his wife lived in his father's basement while they saved money for their own home. However, Andrews' dad helped him speed up the process in a way he never expected by giving him his winning lottery ticket. His father bought a Cash-4Life ticket and matched the first five winning numbers, which come with a prize of either $1,000 every week for life or a one-time cash option of $1 million. Aaron chose the cash option. Andrews' father said it was all part of his plan to help the newlyweds in their next phase of life. "This was the best way to get him out of my basement," he joked.

Hidden ticket, big winner

A Portland woman had a very nice surprise while searching through old lottery tickets in a Tupperware container. Leslie Carr, 52, found a winning $1 million Oregon Lottery Raffle ticket stashed away with other tickets before cashing it in at the Fred Meyer in Happy Valley. "I had no idea I was the winner," medical receptionist Carr said. "If it weren't for the billion-dollar Powerball winner making news, I would have forgot." The winning ticket had been drawn over a month before Carr realized she had it.

And the winner is...

Cynthia Lehmann of River Falls, Wisconsin, pictured here with Tournament Director and Bingo Bugle publisher, Dennis Conroy, took home top prize and the title of Grand Champion aboard the Bingo Bugle's World Championship Bingo Tournament and Gaming Cruise this past November. Cynthia came into the final Bingo session hot, with two prior $1,200 wins; in the final session she sealed the deal with yet another $1,200 win (astounding luck!).

After the final game was daubed, she walked away with an additional $5,000 in cash for being atop the leaderboard, bringing her total to $8,600, plus a free cruise for two to defend her title aboard this year's cruise, setting sail from fabulous New Orleans on October 27th. This luxury 7-day Caribbean vacation includes stops in Montego Bay, Grand Cayman and Cozumel, Mexico.

More than $100,000 in cash and prizes will be on offer at this one and only Bingo Championship event, now sailing into its thirty-fifth year. So come aboard for the fun, the sun and the opportunity to go dauber-to-dauber with Cynthia and grab some of that cash!

Call (888) 352-2464 and talk to cruise specialist, Roxanne Vasquez, or go online to www.bingobugle.com/cruise for more information. Space is limited, so make your reservations soon so you too can raise three cheers for 35 years of World Championship Bingo Cruising with Bingo Bugle!

Gaming News

Mega Millions prices up, odds down

Changes to the multistate lottery platform Mega Millions format have been in the works for over a year, but now more details have been made available. According to PlayiLottery, which obtained documents from the Texas Lottery, the ticket price for Mega Millions will jump from $2 to $5; that will impel the jackpots to grow much larger much faster. Though it was earlier thought that the number of white balls would be reduced, they'll remain the same at 1 through 70. However, the number of gold Mega Balls will be dropped by one, from 25 to 24. That will increase the odds of hitting the jackpot (very slightly).

Tribal gaming sets revenue record

Native American casinos set a new record for revenue last year, raking in $41.9 billion, according to the National Indian Gaming Commission.

It was the fourth consecutive year of record-breaking gaming revenue for the tribes. Profit margins, however, are contracting a bit; this was the second decrease in a row. The 2024 Indian Gaming Cost of Doing Business Report based on data collected from 132 tribal casinos in 18 states was analyzed by Wipfli consulting and accounting firm. Among Wipfli's insights: Slots are the main revenue drivers for tribal casinos; sports betting is a growing income stream but isn't yet "a significant revenue source"; and labor, marketing, and casino promotions are the highest expenses. Wipfli concluded: "Tribal casinos are spending more to promote themselves, thus decreasing their profit margins, because they have to." Competition from various sectors is a contributing factor.

Stake factoring

At a recent virtual meeting with the Massachusetts Gaming Commission, representatives from the seven largest sports books in the U.S. defended their practice of limiting or restricting the action from sharp sports bettors. This is nothing new, though the bookies are extremely averse to discussing it in public. What's somewhat new is the term, "stake factoring," the industry uses to grade how successful sports bettors are, i.e., how often they win their bets. As explained by NewBettingSites, "When you first open an account with a betting company, you're given a stake factor. You can place bets up to 100% of the normal maximum stake. The stake factor gets adjusted up or down depending on whether your wager is a winner or loser. If you're a winning bettor, your stake factor is reduced by as much as 50% initially, dropping further to 25%, 10%, and eventually 1%. If you tend to lose your bets, your stake factor is increased. This means that you can place bets above the normal maximum. If the betting company thinks that you're likely to lose most of your wagers, they're more than happy to ensure that you spend more money with them." In other words, dumb money is fine, but smart money is anything but welcome.

Bingo News

Celebrated band unveils “Bingo Live”

In anticipation of their highly anticipated annual “Goosemas” celebration, the celebrated Connecticut indie band Goose unveiled the theme for its 2024 holiday festivities, presenting “Bingo Live” to shake up its legendarily dynamic setlists even more. For their 11th annual holiday event, Goose will fly to South Carolina and assume the spotlight at North Charleston Coliseum on Dec. 13 and 14. The setlists for these two shows will be determined in real-time as an onstage host draws balls labeled with songs from their discography from a classic bingo cage roller.

This format recalls the band’s 2020 Bingo Tour, which brought the excitement of Goose’s unique live act into fans’ homes to help the community thrive through the COVID lockdown. Like those four unforgettable lives-treamed shows, virtual viewers for this year’s event will be able to play along to the program with bingo cards of their own.

“Bingo Tour gave us a way to get together during a crazy time,” recalls keyboardist and guitarist Peter Anspach. “We found new ways to be creative and connect with our fans despite being miles apart. Bringing ‘Bingo Live’ to Goosemas feels like the perfect way to celebrate that journey and finally perform some of the wild bingo antics live with an audience.”

“Bingo Tour 2020 was such a special time for us,” frontman Rick Mitartotonda adds. “We’re stoked to once again go with the balls.”

The rapidly rising jam quintet unveiled its plans with a short video, which shows someone stumbling on a mysterious bingo roller while searching the attic for holiday decorations.

Mega Fundraising in West Virginia

The YWCA Wheeling hosted its 2nd annual Mega Bingo Fundraiser recently at the River City Wheeling Artisan Center. The event featured 14 games of bingo with a $1,000 payout for each game along with a special overall game that had a payout of $3,000. All proceeds made at the event go directly to supporting the YWCA Wheeling’s various services and projects. The executive director of the YWCA Wheeling, Lori Jones, says the turnout they saw for the event was heartwarming.

“We can’t do what we do if the community doesn’t show up to help us. We support about 7,200 women, children and men each year through our programs and it takes a village. This is the village that showed up today and we’re just happy, happy, happy. Thank you, community. Thank you, Ohio Valley.”

The YWCA Wheeling will be hosting the event quarterly in partnership with Laughlin Memorial Chapel. The next Mega Bingo fundraiser will be at the same location on November 16 and all proceeds made at that event will go to supporting the Laughlin Memorial Chapel.

Horoscopes for November 2024

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): How much can you tone down your temper and still feel like your energetic self? Controversies involving agreements with others require a calm mind and steady approach this month. Think twice before jumping to conclusions, and you'll strike a win-win.
Lucky Days: 2 - 6
Lucky Numbers: 5 - 29

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): The full Moon in your sign on the 15th marks a turning point. Rarely are you so ready and willing to let go of security for the sake of your freedom. A good strategy now is to consult with friends or trusted allies to help you decide on your new course.
Lucky Days: 4 - 12
Lucky Numbers: 39 - 49

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): You're being forced to put yourself in someone else's shoes to experience the world as they do. Don't fret, though. Developing a different viewpoint will help you in the new year when you make critical changes to your career objectives.

Lucky Days: 8 - 28
Lucky Numbers: 34 - 49

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): The full Moon on the 15th requires you to fight for your goals. Ask yourself what resistance you expect and how to overcome it. People often combat new ideas; winning them over will take keen, intuitive savvy like yours. Plan accordingly and keep on your toes.
Lucky Days: 19 - 30
Lucky Numbers: 22 - 28

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): Keep an eye on envy; it's unbecoming to your noble nature. Is it necessary to compare yourself to others? What good can come from it? Focus on supporting your innate talents. Your magnanimous personality will carry you far in achieving your goals.
Lucky Days: 11 - 17
Lucky Numbers: 5 - 55

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): What an unusual year for you. You've never been more disciplined while also exploring fringe, unexplored takes on reality. Beneath this activity, you've been busy refining and defining your unique philosophy of life. Next year, you'll be ready to share your findings with the rest of us.
Lucky Days: 6 - 9
Lucky Numbers: 2 - 26

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): Your efforts to find a happy medium take a disciplined turn this month. This means you become more committed to an idea or project you've toyed with throughout the year. And that means leaving behind pastimes that don't support your vision.
Lucky Days: 13 - 20
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 56

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): You are closing down one cycle and preparing to commence a new one. But first, you'll need to survey your life and pinpoint what's out of whack. You'll want to reenergize what's working and step away from what's unrealistic and too costly.

Lucky Days: 6 - 30
Lucky Numbers: 5 - 15

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): Mercury in your sign sets your mind into high gear. This is a great time to explore new philosophical or spiritual ideas. You're looking for a central idea that will inspire and uplift you. Consider a return to school or a night course; you'll benefit from social exchanges now.
Lucky Days: 16 - 21
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 55

CAPRICORN (DEC 22-JAN 20): Commit to discovering and supporting your life's positive aspects right now. This will counteract any negative bias lurking around in your unconscious. The new year ahead requires that you take the glass half full approach to make progress.
Lucky Days: 9 - 26
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 19

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): If you're feeling opposed by others now, stop and ask yourself what you can learn from your frustration. See if you can remain open-minded to their feedback. This experience will force you to become more assertive with your personal needs—a win for you.
Lucky Days: 4 - 14
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 41

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): The philosopher Ortega Gasset once wrote: "The metaphor is the most fertile power possessed by man." (And women). The key is to compare unrelated concepts to find similarities between them. This allows you to strike out in a new direction you hadn't considered yet.
Lucky Days: 3 - 21
Lucky Numbers: 8 - 50

Slots Q & A

Q: How long should a slot playing session last?

A: Two hours is the suggested maximum playing time without some type of break. Jabbing at buttons longer than this not only invites carpal tunnel syndrome, it wreaks havoc with your ability to think. And a frazzled mind becomes easily discouraged and leads to foolish, careless playing. Try to strike a balance between gambling and relaxing. If you do, you'll feel better and play better. And see if you don't even win more often.

Q: What is a nudge slot machine?

A: It's a machine that moves symbols onto the payline from just above or below after the reels have stopped spinning. The most common nudge machines are IGT's Triple and Double Diamond Deluxe. When a bar symbol with a diamond on it lands just above or below the payline, that bar symbol moves (nudges) up or down to the payline. The nudge feature makes it possible for the player to have a winning spin even if no symbols land on the payline when the reels stop spinning. Other machines with this feature are Balloon Bars and Jurassic Slots.

Q: I'm a slot hopper. I enjoy moving around and playing different slots. My wife, however, insists it's better to stick with just one slot. Who's right?

A: Mathematically speaking, with today's slots it doesn't really matter which way you choose to play. Slot directors today generally order roughly the same long-term payback percentage for all of their slots in a particular denomination. So, if all slots of a given denomination pay back pretty much the same, it makes little difference whether you stick to one slot or slot hop. But slot hopping does have other advantages. By moving about, you're taking minibreaks and extending your bankroll and playing time. Playing a variety of machines also adds to your fun and enjoyment.

Q: I hear it's best not to use a player's club card since the IRS can get a hold of the casino's records to see how much you've won or lost. Any truth to this?

A: No. Casinos give information to the IRS only when you hit a jackpot of $1,200 or more on a single slot win. The IRS is not concerned about the small wins of routine play at slot machines.

Veterans Post

Proving a negative?

An elderly Vietnam-era veteran is being hounded by a government agency that is insisting he pay back a loan ... a loan he never took out.

The Small Business Administration (SBA) says he took out the loan in 2021 and if he doesn't pay it back, they will take 15% of his Social Security check until it's paid for.

The veteran has tried to tell them he never applied for nor received any loan, that he hadn't owned a business (and therefore didn't qualify for a business loan), and the SBA wants him to prove it.

How do you prove a negative?

It seems that the SBA would have records of where they sent that loan money, if indeed the loan was issued.

Charity and chairs

Dear Guy,

Here's an idea for your readers. In the spirit of the holidays, wouldn't it be great if everyone gave a percentage of their winnings to some kind of charity? We are in the season of family, friendship, and giving. What better time could there be for sharing one's good fortune than with those in need? — Louis G., via e-mail

But no, they're insisting the veteran prove he didn't get the loan.

Granted, there were billions of dollars handed out to fraudsters and thieves in the SBA loan program during the pandemic. But again, how do you prove a negative?

The average monthly Social Security check this year is around $1,782. Taking away 15% leaves $1,514. Even before deducting that 15%, it's not a lot of money, and the veteran probably doesn't have a lot to spare at the end of the month.

At this point, taking the veteran's Social Security money is on hold – for now – after a local investigative reporter got involved and made calls.

But a quick look on the internet shows that this veteran is only one of many this has happened to – people being nailed for loans they never received. When they complain, all are being told to send in a long list of financial documents, such as tax returns. At first glance it looks like a scam to steal personal information.

If you're the victim of fraud such as this, deal directly with the SBA Office of Inspector General and file a complaint. As an added step, consider submitting a FOIA request for all documents related to the problem, such as the loan application itself.

Dear Louis,

I mentioned your letter to my buddy, Cheap Al, who argues that technically, by going to charity Bingo games throughout the year, he's already donating to charity by buying into the games and losing. So, he feels he shouldn't have to fork over even more just because it's the holidays.

Still, I give you credit for your generous idea and hope that other readers will follow suit, even if Cheap Al does not. — Guy

Dear Guy,

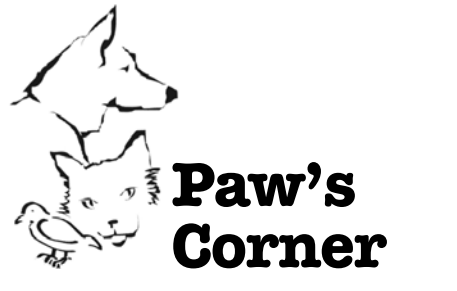

I like going to Bingo but have started having back problems there because of the chairs. They use folding metal chairs that look pretty old and my back is killing me by the end of Bingo. I can barely stand up straight after sitting there for two hours and sometimes my legs begin to go numb from the bad seating. Please print this letter so that someone will see it and hopefully replace the bad metal chairs with some new comfortable ones! — Oh My Aching Back, Ohio, via e-mail

Dear Aching,

Back problems are a real pain, no question about it, and no pun intended. But if you're counting on this letter appearing in this column and solving your situation, you'd better come up with a plan B! Something like mentioning to management that the chairs are terrible and asking if they might consider replacing them. Or bringing your own folding chair with you to the games. Or buying a seat cushion or some kind of back-support device and bringing it to Bingo. Or getting up out of your chair every 15 minutes or so and stretching your muscles a little between sessions.

There. Now you have a plan B—as well as C, D, and E! — Guy

DEAR PAWS: I've been trying to take a picture of my cat "Jess" all summer long. But every photo looks terrible. Do you have any tips for taking good pictures of pets? — Taylor H., Taos, New Mexico

DEAR TAYLOR: Patience and practice are your best friends when trying to get a great shot of your pet. Study the techniques of good photography:

Opportunity: Rather than posing your pet, photograph them in their daily lives.

Eye level: Position the camera lens at the same level as your pet's eyes, rather than aiming down at them.

Focus: Make sure your device has a sharp focus on the pet's eyes. If the auto focus has trouble doing so, try angling slightly so their snout isn't in the way.

Natural light: Turn off the auto flash and rely on natural light, like sunlight or a warmly lit room. This keeps pets relaxed and gives a nice glow to the image.

Background: Pay attention to what's behind your pet. An unscooped litter box behind Jess will really stand out when you're reviewing the photos.

Unusual angles: Play around with different angles and perspectives when photographing your pet. You might be surprised at the ones that look amazing.

Follow the bouncing balls

I was told Bingo is programmed. I play Bingo 2 or 3 times a week. I'm beginning to think the gentleman was right. I'll explain. When Bingo is called the caller enters the numbers from the machine or paper, the caller knows if it's a valid Bingo, no matter what balls are pulled they are already programmed to machine or paper.

Please answer. — DM, Minnesota

Well, DM, in some ways Bingo is definitely “programmed,” but not in the way I think you are suggesting, which is that the outcome of each game is known in advance. Let’s look in detail at some important aspects of how Bingo works.

Bingo paper usually consists of multiple cards printed on a single sheet. Serial numbers are printed on the card by the manufacturer as a sheet identifier (usually at the top of the card, centered). This is used to help prevent players from using paper from another session or another game

Then there is a Series Number (lower left) which identifies the cards in play in a session by the different ranges of cards.

Most Bingo organizers enter all this data into computer software applications to ensure against fraud, assist in proper verification of wins and track sessions for accountability.

All this technical programming stuff aside, regardless of which cards you purchased, or their corresponding serial and verification numbers that are in the system, the Bingo balls are the random, or to your point, “unprogrammed” part of the game.

The numbers called during the game are drawn in plain sight of the players (or by a random number generator if the game is entirely electronic) THEN input into the computer (this can be done manually or through automated systems that track called numbers). Once a player calls out “Bingo!” the computer can then verify the claim by cross-checking the winning card against the randomly selected called numbers.

At the end of the day, the programmed aspects of Bingo all work to prevent fraud and decrease human error in the game of Bingo; and whether any player wins or loses comes down to the luck of the draw of the Bingo balls. Hope this helps! —Aunt Bingo

Leftovers get new life

I had several butternut squash and apples left over after Thanksgiving. They were part of a cornucopia of squash, pumpkin, Indian corn and apple centerpiece. I created a new recipe that turned out quite well. I call it my "Holiday Pie." It is a quiche-type pie that is more appropriately served in the winter. I serve it with my main course rather than as a dessert pie. I consider it one of my vegetables. My husband loved this recipe and gave it two thumbs up. He's never been shy about evaluating my cooking and feels free to make suggestions; sometimes, I actually listen to them. —Annie

2 tablespoons butter
1 large butternut squash
3 apples (any cooking variety)
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup honey

In a large skillet, melt the butter over a low flame. Peel and chop the squash and apples. Sauté over a low to medium low heat until almost soft. Add the brown sugar, honey, pecans, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir thoroughly. Pour this mixture into the uncooked pie shell. In a small bowl, mix the beaten egg and the heavy cream. Pour over the pie mixture. Use as much of this mixture as necessary. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Bake for 55 to 60 minutes. Serves 6 to 8.

Health insurance options for early retirees

Dear Savvy Senior,

I'm going to retire in a few months and need to get some temporary health insurance until I can enroll in Medicare at age 65. What are my options? — Early Retiree

Dear Early,

There are several places early retirees can find health insurance coverage before Medicare kicks in, but the best option for you will depend on your income level, your health care needs and how long you'll need coverage for. Here's where to look.

Affordable Care Act: For most early retirees who aren't yet eligible for Medicare, the Affordable Care Act (ACA) health insurance marketplace, also known as Obamacare, is the best option for getting comprehensive health coverage. And you won't be denied coverage or charged extra for preexisting health conditions.

And, if your income falls below the 400 percent poverty level after you retire - anything below $60,240 for a single or $81,760 for a couple in 2024 - you'll also be eligible for a subsidy that will reduce your monthly premiums. The ACA also ensures that at least through 2025, households with incomes above that 400 percent poverty level will not have to pay more than 8.5 percent of their income for a benchmark policy. To see how much you may be eligible for, use Kaiser Family Foundation subsidy calculator at KFF.org/interactive/subsidy-calculator.

To shop for ACA plans in your state, visit HealthCare.gov or call 800-318-2596. Or, if you want some extra help, contact a certified agent or broker at HealthCare.gov/find-assistance.

COBRA: Another temporary health insurance option you may be eligible for is the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA). Under this federal law, if you work for a company that has 20 or more employees, you can remain on your employer's group health plan for at least 18 months - but could last up to 36 months. But be aware that COBRA isn't cheap. You'll pay the full monthly premium yourself, plus a 2 percent administrative fee.

To learn more, talk to your employer benefits administrator or contact the Employee Benefits Security Administration (Askebsa.dol.gov; 866-444-3272).

If, however, the company you work for has fewer than 20 employees, you may still be able to get continued coverage through your company if your state has "mini-COBRA." Contact your state insurance department to see if this is available where you live.

Short-Term Health Insurance: If you can't find an affordable ACA plan and COBRA is too expensive, another possible option is short-term health insurance. These plans, which are not available in every state, are cheaper, bare-bones health plans that provide coverage for up to 3 months with a one-month extension available. But be aware that short-term plans don't comply with the ACA so they can deny sick people coverage, they don't cover preexisting conditions and they can exclude coverage essentials like prescription drugs. To find and compare short-term health plans, try sites like eHealthInsurance.com or PivotHealth.com.

Healthcare sharing ministries: If the previously listed options don't work for you, another temporary solution could be healthcare sharing ministries (HCSM). These are cost-sharing health plans in which members - who typically share a religious belief - make monthly payments to cover expenses of other members, including themselves.

HCSM's are cheaper than paying full out-of-pocket costs for traditional health insurance but be aware that HCSM's are not health insurance. They don't have to comply with the consumer protections of the ACA, and they can also reject or limit coverage for having pre-existing health issues and limit how much you'll be reimbursed for your medical costs. Preventive care typically isn't covered either. To look for these plans, comparison shop at the three largest providers - Samaritan Ministries (SamaritanMinistries.org), Medi-Share (MyChristianCare.org), and Christian Healthcare Ministries (Chministries.org).

- “To clean the TV remote in my home, I dip a cotton swab into rubbing alcohol, shake off any excess and use it to gently clean the surface. I do this weekly during cold and flu season.” — M. in Minnesota
- To keep track of rolls of tape or other rolled items in your shop, hang a length of chain from two “S” hooks on your pegboard. They will be readily accessible, and you can tear off what you need.
- “If you use those little plastic key-ring cards for store rewards accounts and discount programs, you can keep them easily organized in a small photo brag book. These books can be found at drugstores and big box retailers, and are meant for a small collection of wallet-size pictures.” — R.I. in Arkansas
- Fill an easy-to-use hand soap dispenser with body wash or shampoo for kids to use in the bath or shower.
- When preparing outdoor furniture for winter storage, it's important to give it a nice cleaning. If you have a truck, why not load it up and bring it to the local self-serve car wash? The specialized brushes make it easy to clean right there in the back of the vehicle, and a pressure rinse gets soap and dirt from all the nooks and crannies.

Are the following statements about blackjack facts, or are they fiction?

- (1) Referring to a strategy card when you play blackjack is perfectly legal.
- (2) A blackjack player who misplays his hand will always cause other players to lose.
- (3) The third base player can influence a dealer bust by the way he plays his hand.
- (4) You should always take even money when you have a blackjack and the dealer shows an Ace.
- (5) Splitting a pair of 8s against a dealer 10 and Ace is for suckers.
- (6) A progressive betting system will overcome the house edge.
- (7) You should always hit 16 against a dealer 10.
- (8) The increase in the house edge when the casino only pays 6-5 for a blackjack is offset when only a single deck of cards is used.
- (9) A player who enters a game in the middle of a shoe will alter the flow of the cards and cause the other table players to lose.
- (10) If you see the dealer's hole card by accident and don't say anything, you are cheating.

ANSWERS:

- (1) Fact. You should always have a strategy card handy in case you forget how to play a hand.
- (2) Fiction. How well or poorly your fellow players play the game does not affect your chances of winning or losing in the long run. You could have five brilliant minds, or five chimpanzees on the same table with you, and your odds of winning remain the same.

- (3) Fiction. If the actions of the third base player could influence whether a dealer busts, don't you think the casinos would be doing something about it (like putting shills on third base to play in a manner that would improve the dealer's chances of beating the table)?
- (4) Fiction. Over the long haul you will end up with more money in your pocket if you decline even money rather than taking it.
- (5) Fiction. Even though that's what was said in the movie 21, you should always split 8s against a dealer 10 and Ace.
- (6) Fiction. No betting system alone will overcome the house edge in blackjack.
- (7) Fiction. If the casino offers surrender you should surrender. If your 16 is composed of three or more cards or the result of a pair split, you should stand.
- (8) Fiction. Even the use of a single deck doesn't come close to offsetting the approximate 1.4% increase in house edge when the house pays 6-5 for a blackjack, instead of 3-2.

- (9) Fiction. Yes, the cards coming out of the shoe will be different, but you can't predict if it will be better or worse. Long term it makes no difference.
- (10) Fiction. There is nothing illegal about taking advantage of a sloppy dealer. It's the casinos responsibility to ensure that their dealers are following the correct dealing protocols.

Kristen Foxen looks to make history in World Series of Poker

The 55th Annual World Series of Poker (WSOP) Main Event proved to be the largest in history as 10,112 players put up the $10,000 buy-in and competed for a $94,041,600 prize pool. Heading into Day 8, just 18 players remained and were guaranteed $350,000 in prize money.

At the time, all eyes were on poker pro Kristen Foxen, a four-time WSOP gold bracelet winner with more than $8.3 million in lifetime earnings according to The Hendon Mob, poker’s largest live poker database. That’s because she was starting the final two tables fifth in chips and looking to become just the second female in history to make the WSOP Main Event final table.

Poker Hall of Famer Barbara Enright is the only women to do it way back in 1995 when she ultimately finished in fifth place. At the 2012 WSOP, it appeared as if two women would make the final table of nine players, but ultimately Norway’s Elisabeth Hille and France’s Gaelle Baumann bowed out in 11th and 10th place respectfully.

With 13 players remaining in the 2024 WSOP Main Event, it was Level 38 (600,000/1,200,000/1,200,000) when a much-talked about hand took place. It began when Joe Serock raised to 2.4 million first to act (AKA “under the gun”) and action folded to Foxen, who opted to defend her big blind with the KsQd.

The flop came down AhKhJs and Foxen check-called a bet of 4 million with her middle pair and straight draw. When the 5s appeared on the turn, Serock upped his bet to 11.6 million and Foxen thought for a good bit before moving all in for 36.9 million.

Serock took off his sunglasses, picked up his cards, and then called with the AsKc for top two pair. Foxen was drawing to a ten for a straight, but the 6h river was not what she needed. Just like that, she was eliminated from the tournament in 13th place for $600,000.

The poker community debated the hand with some arguing her all-in check-raise was a bad move while others defended its merits. According to GTO Wizard, a poker tool used to determine game-theory optimal (GTO) play, Foxen made a blunder, one that cost her approximately $67,788 in expected value.

That said, others were quick to commend Foxen for being fearless and having the heart to attempt such a power move, one that if successful would’ve no doubt ensured she made the final table and put her in good position to win the entire tournament for $10,000,000!

“It was overwhelming and very, very sweet. I felt very prepared for the spot and the run. Comparing it to how I played ten years ago, I’m proud of myself,” Foxen told PokerGO’s Jeff Platt after her elimination. “Don’t be afraid to sit down and play with guys.”

It was an incredible run for Kristen Foxen, but the poker world will have to wait until next year to see if another woman can make the final table of the WSOP Main Event.

What’s New in Nevada

Suncoast unveils new sports book

Suncoast’s conversion of a showroom into the new sports book is complete. The sports book was officially unveiled just in time for football season. It boasts a nearly 16-foot-tall curved video wall (the curve is de rigueur nowadays) with 1,700 square feet of total high-definition screens. The former sports book is currently being converted into a new bingo room, which will be completed next year; in the meantime, bingo is played on the second floor. Further refinements to Boyd’s northwest-valley resort include renovations to the casino, bowling center, and food hall and a 70-seat center bar.

Fat Sal’s opens at Neonopolis

Move over, Heart Attack Grill, Fat Sal’s has come to town. Sal’s, a sandwich shop with six locations in southern California, opened this week at Neonopolis, which also hosts the Heart Attack Grill. The two are of a kind—guilty pleasures calorie-wise. Fat Sal’s offers Fat sandwiches, such as the Fat Breakfast, with two fried eggs, ham, bacon, sausage, mozzarella sticks, American cheese, and tater tots on a butter grilled hero ($19); Fat Texas, with pastrami, chicken fingers, bacon, mozzarella sticks, melted mozzarella and cheddar, grilled onions, and fries on a garlic hero ($20); Fat ($15-$16) and standard ($8-$15) burgers; heroes ($16-$17); Make It Fatter add-ons; And Fat shakes ($13). The Big Fat Fatty is a 30-inch garlic hero with cheesesteak, double-cheeseburger, pastrami, chicken fingers, bacon, mozzarella sticks, fried eggs, fries, onion rings, chili, and marinara, while the Big Fat Shake is served with 30 scoops of vanilla and chocolate ice cream each, cake, cookies, pretzels, syrup, and whipped cream; they’re both $99.99, but finish the Fatty in 40 minutes or the shake in 10 and they’re free.

Jackpot at Planet Hollywood

A visitor from Omaha had been playing pai gow poker for 90 minutes at Planet Hollywood recently when he lined up a seven-card straight flush. It was the ace through 7 of clubs, with a joker serving as the deuce. Having made the progressive bet, he scooped a nice jackpot of $1,620,470. He told the casino that his first thought on hitting the jackpot was “to call his wife.” Now there’s a devoted husband.
