Today's Bible Quiz

In the parable of the ten virgins, what was Jesus trying to teach?

- That all must be ready when He comes
- That no one can be ready when He comes
- That God does not know us
- That sharing is not correct

Walking with God

“After he begot Methuselah, Enoch walked with God three hundred years, and had sons and daughters. So all the days of Enoch were three hundred and sixty-five years. And Enoch walked with God; and he was not, for God took him” (Genesis 5:22-24).

EVEN THOUGH OUR SURROUNDINGS IN THIS WORLD HAVE BEEN MARRED BY SIN, GOD HAS MADE IT POSSIBLE FOR US TO WALK WITH HIM. We can yield our decisions and our deeds to Him in such a way that we actually become companions of the very God who created us. The possibility of such a thing suggests some important truths about God Himself, does it not?

For one thing, it is remarkable that God offers to every one of us the possibility of walking with Him. No matter how badly we have wrecked our past, God is willing for us to walk with Him the rest of the way home, if we'll accept His pardon on His terms. This privilege is not limited to those born into any certain class of humanity, nor does it require any special intellectual powers. Walking with God just means we faithfully follow whatever truth becomes clear to us. “What we need in religion is not new light, but new sight; not new paths, but new strength to walk in the old ones; not new duties, but new strength from on high to fulfill those that are plain to us” (Tryon Edwards).

But if there can be such a thing as walking with God, there must also be such a thing as not walking with Him. If, for example, the lifestyle of Enoch's degraded contemporaries constituted just as much a walk with God as that of Enoch himself, then the statement “Enoch walked with God” would mean very little. But surely this is not a meaningless statement. We are being told that Enoch made certain choices concerning God and that these choices had their consequence in a walk that would have been impossible otherwise. To realize this is to be sobered in our thinking.

Neither the freedom of walking with God nor the destination can be ours without radical repentance and redirection of our hearts. “Father, set me free in the glory of thy will, so that I will only as thou willest. Thy will be at once thy perfection and mine. Thou alone art deliverance — absolute safety from every cause and kind of trouble that ever existed, anywhere now exists, or ever can exist in thy universe” (George MacDonald).

“When we walk with God, we get where He is going” (Anonymous).

Today's Bible Quiz Answer

- That all must be ready when He comes (Matthew 25: 1-13)

The word "Faith" is written in a large, elegant, cursive script. The letters are fluid and connected, with a prominent 'F' and a long, sweeping 'h'.

is not believing that God can, it's knowing that He will
