

Teachers Talking Tech Mini-Conference!

Where: Student Conference Center

Highland Community College, Freeport, IL

When: November 21, 2019

Time: 9:00-2:30

Cost: $50 with Lunch provided

Target Audience: Instructional Tech Coaches, Classroom Teachers, Admins, & IT Staff

Join us for a day of learning about instructional technology for teachers by teachers. ROE 8 and the Learning Technology Center of Illinois are happy to host the third Teachers Talking Tech mini-conference. On Thursday, November 21st, educators are invited to attend a mini-conference focused on providing teachers with new and engaging ways to bring technology into their classrooms. The day will be structured with multiple topics, sure to appeal to teachers of all grade levels. All sessions are presented by teachers who have been in the classroom applying the strategies and tools they are presenting on. Come and learn from local educators on how they are changing the way students learn in the classroom!

Speakers

Keynote: Using Technology to Give Students Voice

Ben Sondgeroth: RETC - Learning Technology Center of Illinois

Breakout Sessions:

Get More Out of Google Slides: Stacy Reagan

My Favorite Things: Stacy Reagan

Engaging Students with PearDeck: Amy Metzger and Megan Zamora

Break In/Scavenger Hunts: Amy Metzger and Megan Zamora

Going Beyond the Core with Google Apps, Add-Ons and Extensions: Elizabeth Byam

VR Goggles and Other Cool Tools: Natalie Victorov

Register: <http://bit.ly/roe8registration>