

The New York City Tour continues with a guided bus tour of the Upper West Side and Central Park area. “Grand Central Station”: The historic Grand Central Terminal is a famous NYC landmark in Midtown Manhattan. Commonly referred to as ‘Grand Central Station’, it is loved by the world for its history, architecture and grandeur. It is one of the busiest train stations in the world. Built in 1871, it is home to some of the most beautiful Beaux-Arts architecture in NYC. Grand Central Station has undergone a number of renovations and restorations over the years. In the 1960’s, this famous NYC landmark was nearly torn down, but with the help of first-lady Jacqueline Kennedy, it was designated as a historic American landmark. Renovations at the Grand Central Terminal were completed in 1998, and once more in 2007 when this NY landmark received an extensive cleaning revealing its magnificent ceiling. The Grand Central ceiling features a huge astronomical mural, a fact that was largely missed by Grand Central passengers for many years. Lunch is on your own at a wide variety of restaurants in the Dining Concourse
