

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING THE EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The purpose of the Executive Summary is to highlight essential information about the condominium for prospective buyers. This Executive Summary form utilizes a fill-in-the-blank, checkbox format for easy completion on behalf of a condominium association by a condominium board of directors officer, a property manager or an attorney. CAUTION: REAL ESTATE LICENSEES AND UNIT OWNERS SHOULD NOT COMPLETE THIS FORM!

1. Fill in blanks and check boxes. Each section of the Executive Summary asks a question about a different aspect of condominium living. The topical question is followed by detailed questions that may be answered by checking one or more boxes and filling in the blanks. Provide as much information as possible in a clear and direct manner.

-OR-

2. Refer to the Condominium Documents. Each section of the Executive Summary concludes with an item that says, " For specific information about (section topic), see _____ ." Fill in the blank lines by indicating exactly where in the condominium disclosure materials the prospective purchaser may read provisions discussing the section topic. For example, the blank lines might be filled in to refer the prospective purchasers to "pages 23-24 of the Declaration and page 36 of the Bylaws."

The goal of the Executive Summary is to provide information in clear, plain language or to provide specific references to the condominium documents where the topics are addressed. Doing both - providing concise information about each topic and referring the reader to the pertinent condominium document provisions - is also an option but is not required. Once completed, a copy of the Executive Summary may be distributed to each unit owner. Consult with your attorney if you have any questions concerning the preparation of the Executive Summary.

 Executive Summary: Legal Requirements. Per Wis. Stat. § 703.33(1m), the declarant (developer) or the association is responsible for preparing the Executive Summary and revising it whenever a change is made in the disclosure materials that necessitates a corresponding revision to the Executive Summary. An Executive Summary must appear in the condominium disclosure materials directly following the index [Wis. Stat. § 703.33(2)], and must be attached as an addendum to the real estate condition report (RECR) that a seller gives to a prospective unit purchaser, generally before the prospect writes an offer to purchase (Wis. Stat. § 709.02). An Executive Summary may not be required as part of the disclosure materials for a "small condominium" (up to 12 units), depending upon the elections made in the declaration [Wis. Stat. § 703.365 (1) & (8)].

 Executive Summary: Effective Dates. The use of the Executive Summary in the disclosure materials and as an addendum to the RECR is mandatory for condominiums created on or after May 1, 2005 in transactions scheduled to close on or after May 1, 2005. For condominiums created before May 1, 2005, use of the Executive Summary in the condominium disclosure materials and with the RECR is mandatory in transactions scheduled to close on or after June 1, 2006.

 Executive Summary: Use Current Disclosure Materials. The Executive Summary should be completed based upon a current set of the condominium disclosure materials, and the seller should make sure that the materials they deliver to a buyer are up-to-date. The seller must provide the buyer with the condominium disclosure materials no later than 15 days before closing. Wis. Stat. § 703.20(2) requires an association to furnish the seller with the required disclosure materials, at the seller's expense, within 10 days of the seller's request. It is recommended that all associations routinely provide this service and that all unit sellers obtain a current copy of the condominium disclosure materials from the association to avoid the problems that may arise if the seller gives the buyer an incomplete or outdated set of documents.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This Executive Summary highlights some of the information that prospective condominium buyers are most interested in learning, as well as some of the information that they should consider when contemplating the purchase of a condominium unit. The following sections either briefly summarize pertinent information by answering the questions asked, direct prospective buyers to specific sections of the condominium disclosure materials that discuss each topic in detail (at the  icon), or may be completed to both summarize the information and refer to the condominium documents. This summary, however, is not intended to replace the buyer's review of the condominium declaration, bylaws and other condominium disclosure materials nor is it a substitute for a professional review of the condominium documents.

Note: A "Statutory Reserve Account" is a specific type of reserve account established under Wis. Stat. § 703.163 to be used for the repair and replacement of the common elements in a residential condominium (optional for a small condominium with less than 13 units or a mixed-use condominium with residential and non-residential units). In a new condominium, the developer initially decides whether to have a statutory reserve account, but after the declarant control period ends, the association may opt-in or opt-out of a statutory reserve account with the written consent of a majority of the unit votes. Existing condominiums must establish a statutory reserve account by May 1, 2006 unless the association elects to not establish the account by the written consent of a majority of the unit votes. Condominiums may also have other reserve fund accounts used for the repair and replacement of the common elements that operate apart from §703.165.
