Author Bio

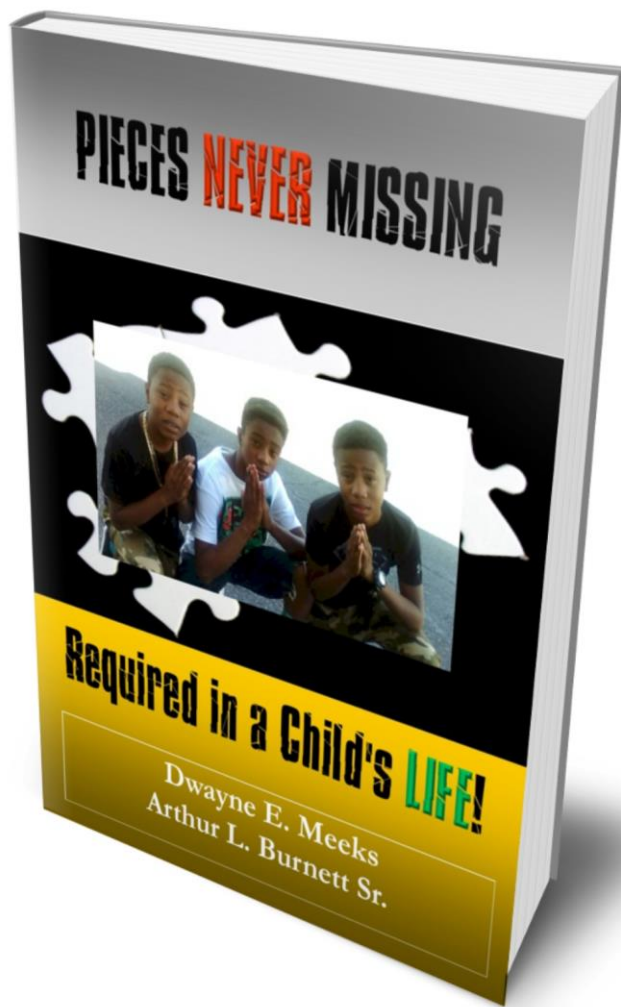

Meeks has spent over 30 years working in the community with organizations and institutions that serve to strengthen families to inspire and motivate mothers and fathers to leave far better and stronger lives to their children and grandchildren who will come after them.

His powerful unapologetic inside look and brought to the forefront some of the most pressing issues surrounding the challenges and biases around fatherhood engagement and the families who are at risk of being marginalized because of economic obstructions and focuses on the need to reaffirm the advantage of fathers inside the family arrangement while being committed to meticulous relationship structure that has become a crucial part of tomorrow's youth development as to the substance of what meaningful fathering of children should be in this Nation.

Meeks is a provocative, valuable and compelling speaker, a voice whose opportunity has arrived to be heard!

Book Bio

Meeks and Burnett Sr. have presented an inside look and brought to the forefront some of the most pressing issues surrounding the challenges and biases around fatherhood engagement and the families who are at risk of being marginalized because of economic obstructions and focuses on the need to reaffirm the advantage of fathers inside the family arrangement. The book contains many recommendation on how fathers can encourage and motivate their children to develop positive values, achieve and reach their potential.

The book conveys an approach for fathers and educators to appreciate the value of each others position as stake holders in children's academic lives, while being committed to meticulous relationship structure that has become a crucial part of tomorrow's youth development.

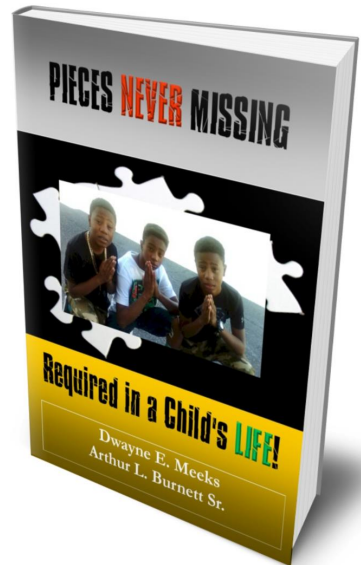

The book is a safe guide that includes recommendations for school leaders, educators, policymakers, community stakeholders, parents, families, and others concerned about the state of fatherhood engagement in academic settings and abroad. Therefore, this book deals, not with theories and opinions, but with well-proved principles. Every statement has been weighed. The book is established on fundamentals.

TESTIMONIALS

This is an incredible book that all fathers and anybody working with fathers must read. This is a great investment for every dad seeking direction in safeguarding the futures and welfare of their children. I am going to strongly recommend every lawyer in my firm to read this critical book.

-Fathers' Rights Attorney Jeffery M. Leving

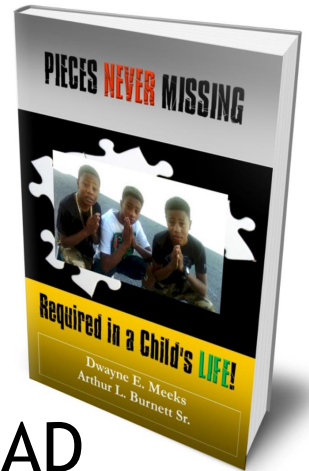

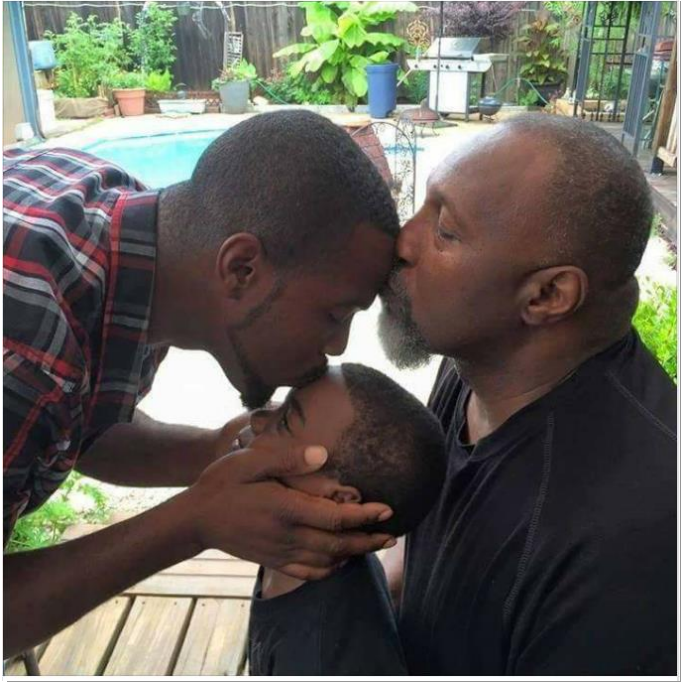

What Mr. Dwayne Meeks has done in this magnificent story of Fathering Solutions is laid out the plan to combat one of the world's most pervasive and debilitating diseases "Father Absence". Mr. Meeks, knows that fathers "are" the difference and we can stem the tide of violence through a cadre of trained men and women joined together as a village that can fit the correct pieces in place to change a child's life from a broken stone to a stepping stone.

Chapter 3: Re-Branding the substance of engagement

What is essential here is that we have a group of solid pioneers who comprehend engagement. Rethinking fatherhood engagement is to reconsider a fathers' value. Fathers need better attention, better publicity! What merits centering our consideration on are the genuine fathers who are doing it correctly. When I think about the men in my own life that I admire, including relatives, and even acquaintances. It is the unsung champions of fatherhood who stand tall despite the circumstances. It is the men who are not crazy, egotistical, oppressive, brutal, foolish, lethargic, con-artists, and addicts. My attention on deliberately announcing this positive re-branding of fatherhood engagement is for the men who are now driving the way.

The principal thing we have to comprehend is that policymakers condemn failing schools and advance a wide mixture of potential changes, from more control in schools with police and security and less impact from parents that have any significant impact on fewer children in the classrooms. While there appears to be no agreement on the most ideal approach to change instruction, escalate projects that get parents buy in before their kids are even prepared to begin school and backing those kids through secondary school and expand future possibilities for at risk children.

The second thing we need to help parents comprehend is that the family must be developed like a garden. with time, effort, and creative energy. A family must be summoned continually to keep it blossoming. There is no greater challenge more noteworthy than child rearing. If you talk with your kids you can help them to keep their lives together. If you talk with them skillfully, you can help them to assemble future dreams starting with self-care.

In those conversations' children must be assured that they are loved. The love must be communicated in the love languages of children. They are physical touch, words of encouragement, quality time, gifts, and acts of service. If we understand that this is what our children need to be emotionally, and spiritually well rounded and this is what children are craving from their parents, then why are we not providing more of these types of points of service to our families? I believe that is because the government does not make huge profits from healing families or else it would not make sense to having this discussion.
