

It's OK!

I know life could be
Gentle and so sweet
With you

I know life would be
Simple and complete
With you

It's ok, it's alright
'Cause I don't want no more, no
Aggravation
It's ok, it's alright
'Cause I don't need no more, no
complication
It's ok, it's alright
'Cause I don't want no more bad
Situation
It's ok, it's alright
'Cause I don't need no more, no
Confrontation
It's ok, it's alright
'Cause I don't want no more, no
Isolation
It's ok, it's alright
'Cause I don't need no more, no
Consternation

Hiding in your bosom
Crying 'till the dawn
Oh, my love

What you say and what you do
What you say and what you do
Are different things, completely two Different things, completely two

Looking for a little kindness
Groping for a helping hand
Innocence is not blindness
It's more like playing in the sand

Looking for a little compassion
I'm tired of being alone
I was headed in the wrong direction
But now I'm looking for a home

Looking to the ends of the Earth
I'm so tired of hanging out
Tired of angry souls
I'm so tired of people who shout

Looking for the end of a rainbow
Looking for a pot of gold
Looking at my parents and their parents
I just can't wait to get old

Looking for somebody to grow with Someone to share a life
Someone to make babies with Someone to be my wife

Love

Well, I believe
I believe
I believe that love can save the world

I believe in honesty
I believe in love and peace

I believe in being free
I believe in you and me
I believe that love can save

And I will try to understand
Try to be a better friend
I believe that love can save the world

'Cause I can see how beautiful
And I can see how wonderful
'Cause I believe that love can save

I believe that it's ok
I believe that it's alright
It's OK!
It's alright

I believe
