

Shyla and Lamb

Hi!

We are a 3 ½ year old bonded pair of sisters (we need to be adopted together). We love, love love to cuddle. We sleep well at night and sleep in a bed on the floor of the bedroom but would prefer to get in bed with you. We also know several commands like sit, no, down and gentle. We are just learning to walk on a leash so you will need to be patient while we figure it all out. We play well together and if you tell us to “get your sister” when we are outside, we will take off chasing each other. We get along with other dogs but need to learn better skills at meeting them. Our foster mom is working on that.

As you can probably guess I (Lamb) look like a white lamb. I weigh 8.4 kg. and am in good health. I love to give kisses. I am the more outgoing of the two of us and am normally the first to greet people and other dogs.

Shyla is just like her name, Shy. But warms up quickly and is a love bug like me. She weighs 7.0 Kg. and needs her ear hair trimmed regularly as she tends to get little mats which could cause ear issues. Shyla likes to touch her human gently with her paw, to let them know she is there and would love you to pet her.

We both tend to startle with new sounds or sudden movements, so a home with older children respectful would be a must. We would really like a home with someone who is home a lot but get along fine in our foster home when foster mom is at work. We are not crated in the daytime and are not destructive at all in the home.

We are up to date on our vaccinations, microchipped, spayed and are getting our teeth cleaned this month.

If you have room in your home and your heart for two young girls, we could be a match!!

Our adoption fee is $500 for the pair of us!!
