
ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF DENTAL AND HEALTH SCIENCES

Dear Reader,

It is indeed a pleasure to present you with the Volume 1 issues 1 of the International Journal of Dental and Health Sciences (IJDHS).

The International Journal of Dental and Health Sciences is really fortunate to have a wealth of experienced academicians who have painstakingly reviewed and corrected the articles that the diligent, young and energetic minds across the world have toiled to bring to your purview. I do hope you will relish the scholarly fare.

I would like to particularly thank the Publishers, DentaMed Publishing and specifically Mrs. Dropadi, its Director for their painstaking work in the short time that we manage to bring out our first issues in the beginning of year 2014. Thanks to their efforts, the IJDHS is now online at www.ijdhs.com. You can submit articles directly on <http://ijdhs.com/Manuscript-Submission/>.

I welcome your comments and suggestions on the International Journal of Dental and Health Sciences and as it's Editor, I am fully committed to bringing about an International Journal of Dental and Health Sciences that reflects the quality and character of professional excellence of dental and health sciences.

Finally, the Editors-in-chief wish to thank the authors who submitted papers to the first issue of IJHIS. We are grateful that they responded to our invitation. Many thanks are due to the members of the Editorial Board who reviewed these first papers submitted to the journal. We thank them for their precious feedback and advice.

Sincerely yours,

Dr Rohit Rai

Editor-In-Chief

International Journal of Dental and Health Sciences

