MONREALE, PALERMO, BALLARO

Today we are traveling toward Monreale. This unique place is one of the most prestigious locations in western Sicily. Only 8 km from Palermo, the town enjoys a truly enviable panorama: from its height of 310 meters you can admire Palermo in all its extension. Famous throughout the world for its magnificent Norman Cathedral, intact in its entire splendor, it's one of the most visited buildings in Sicily: harmonious in size, balanced in shapes and with lavish decorations, is the symbol of the refined Norman art in Sicily. After Monreale, we go back to Palermo. Famous throughout the world, Palermo is the regional capital of Sicily and the fifth largest city in Italy by population.

On the shores of the Tyrrhenian Sea, it is located between Monte Pellegrino and the bay of Conca d'Oro, in the western part of Sicily. City of a thousand faces, loud but elegant, eclectic and never dull, Palermo with its architectural beauty, its traditions and its people attracts and enchants thousands of visitors from all over the world. You will be offered a guided tour of the historical center, followed by a must-stop to the outdoor markets of Ballarò, a place that awakens all of the senses. Here we leave you to admire and immerse into the the 'abbanniate', which is the Sicilian word for the stentorian yelling of the sellers. It is their way of getting passers-by's attention, showing them their goods so that taste and sight can also feast on the stands crowded with fresh fish, meat, vegetables, and traditional foods like flour and chickpea fritters. At Ballarò you may enjoy a lunch on your own by selecting the ample selections of street food available. In the late afternoon we'll stop for at wine tasting at Enoteca Picone in the heart of the city for some unusual Sicilian wine specialties with quick bites. Return to the picturesque setting of Bagheria.

Day 3 Wednesday October 9

SEGESTA, ERICE, BAGHERIA

Today we travel to the western area of Sicily with a visit to the ancient ruined temple at Segesta. The archaeological site of Segesta is one of the most valuable historic sites in Sicily. A center from ancient origins, the historical rival of Selinunte is located in the western part of the island, surrounded by a green and quiet countryside about 40 km from Trapani. You'll be able to explore the site with your expert local guide before heading down towards the coastline near Trapani, famous for its landscape of salt pans and historic windmills. After a brief tour of Trapani, we move up to the medieval town of Erice, perched precariously on a rocky summit overlooking the coast below. The picturesque and charming town of Erice is one of the most attractive tourist resorts, not only in Sicily, but throughout the Mediterranean area. It is located at the height of 750 meters, from which you can admire all its medieval glory: alleys and courtyards make you feel like time has stopped. From here, you can enjoy a breathtaking view from Trapani to the Aegadian Islands where, at sunset, a fantastic set of colors appears in front of your eyes and the rays of the setting sun are reflected in the whiteness of the salt pans. Our lunch break will be in Erice at Archi di San Carlo Ristorante. After exploring the historic winding streets, we'll visit the most famous pastry shop in Sicily for a tasting. The shop is the brain-child of Maria Grammatico who was featured in the poignant Sicilian memoir, Bitter Almonds. Return back to Bagheria in late afternoon, where we will enjoy a dinner at a local restaurant. Pack your bags...we are moving tomorrow to Siracusa.

Day 7 Sunday October 13

This is your last full day in Sicily, at least for this round, and we've decided to spend it in the Siracusa territory on the south-eastern coast of Sicily. The city is among the most noble and elegant from all over the Mediterranean Sea. Full of charm, history and natural landscape, enviable and envied, the city is divided into two different groups: the urban part of the city and Ortigia, the beautiful island of the city, increasingly rich in tourism. In 2005, Syracuse and the nearby necropolis of Pantalica, have become part of the Unesco World Heritage. The islet of Ortigia is the historical heart of the city of Syracuse. Within its area of one square kilometer it is possible to admire the architectural beauties of different historical periods: from the first prehistoric settlements, through the numerous remains of ancient Greek Byzantine and Norman. Today Ortigia lives in a brilliant reconstruction of its old charm, finding consensus in the numerous tourists who remain entranced by the rare beauty of Syracuse. Today you will enjoy a leisure tour with our specialist guide, and then depart toward the prosperous lands of Contrada Fanusa, to visit Cantine Gulino Winery for a great tasting with light lunch. The Gulino family carries on, with commitment and dedication, the noble art of winemaking, a precious family heritage dating back to 1793. You will have some free time to walk around the island of Ortigia, admire the outdoor market and maybe decide to stroll around with a Bronte pistachio gelato, or simply shop for souvenirs, laces and Sicilian specialty foods. In the evening our farewell dinner at Hotel Parco delle Fontane will wrap up our week-long together.
