Morning General Session

Recreational Marijuana and the Union Workplace

Presenter Laura Katers Reilly, Kendricks, Bordeau, Keefe, Seavoy & Larsen PC

In November, Michigan voters passed into law the Michigan Regulation and Taxation of Marijuana Act (Proposal 1), making recreational use of marijuana legal in the state. What will the new law mean for union workplaces? With marijuana still a Schedule 1 drug at the federal law, how will it impact trade work on federal contracts? What about CDLs? Join Attorney Laura Reilly to learn the basics of the law, and understand how it will impact your contract administration.

Afternoon General Session

Dealing with Difficult People

Presenter Dale Anderson, OSF Health Care

An unreasonable co-worker, employee, or boss can make even the most rewarding job a nightmare. While we normally can't control the behavior of others, we can control how we react to it. This session will teach you strategies to respond effectively to the most difficult personalities in your workplace.

Breakout Sessions

Update on Hot Labor Topics

Presenter Kathryn VanDagens, Arbitrator

A favorite presenter at the UPLMC Annual Conference is back to give us the latest take on developments in the Michigan labor relations. Arbitrator Kathryn VanDagens will present the labor relations developments in Lansing and in Washington, D.C. that both union and management need to know for the coming year.

Identify Stress in the Workplace

Presenter Angela Nino, Empathic Workplace/Therapy

We have all hit low points at work, shown signs of irritability, or felt a lack of control over deadlines and demands. What are the signs of stress in your workplace that may be stopping you and your colleagues from getting things done? Presenter Angela Nino, of Empathetic Workplace, will discuss ways to identify and address stressful interactions with others in your work life.

MJQ&A: More about Recreational Marijuana and the Workplace

Presenter Laura Katers Reilly, Kendricks, Bordeau, Keefe, Seavoy & Larsen PC

If the morning session about Michigan's new recreational marijuana law left you with more questions than answers, this breakout is for you. Attorney Laura Reilly will field your questions and address more topics that we did not have time for in the general session.

Food Drive

Don't forget to bring canned goods and other non-perishable food items to the conference to help a neighbor in need. The UPLMC wants your donations for the food pantry of St. Vincent de Paul of Escanaba. Every donation earns a chance to win a prize.
