Please join us at our March PDM – it has been such a long cold Winter, maybe we can warm up a bit at SPR 😊 (and of course hear about all of their aggressive growth plans, re-shoring initiatives and local success stories.) As they say on their website, things have evolved since SRP's first heaters were built, but one fact has remained constant: The SRP brand is synonymous with SUPERIOR TECHNOLOGY and SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE.

Tour Summary: Superior Radiant Product is an industry leader in the design and manufacture of energy efficient infrared heating solutions and is dedicated to providing superior technology and superior performance. Located in U.S.A., Canada and China, SRP offers a complete range of gas fired low and high intensity infrared heaters for industrial, commercial, agricultural and residential applications worldwide.

Products including the patented Premier VS Vacuum Series, the innovative SRP AccuRATE® Control with independent zone modulation, KMI high efficiency high intensity and now the first truly adaptive modulating AM tube heater confirm that SRP is committed to research and development with unparalleled technology.
