About

This year, Family Fun Day is a celebration of the 50th anniversaries of Borderland State Park (Dec. 1971) and the Friends of Borderland (Feb. 1972), a non-profit partner.

For 50 years Borderland State Park has provided a green space for the local communities to recreate and learn about local history.

Today, Borderland encompasses over 1,843 acres surrounding the historic Ames Mansion, which was completed in 1912. Borderland is managed by the Department of Conservation and recreation (DCR), which oversees 450,000 acres statewide.

The Friends of Borderland's mission is to assist DCR in preserving and interpreting the natural and cultural resources at Borderland State Park. The Friends of Borderland rely on their membership and donations to fulfill their mission. Please consider donating to the Friends of Borderland.
