

For the Real Estate Professional

Your reputation is your most valuable asset. Your clients rely on you to guide them through a complicated and sometimes stressful process. Demonstrate to them that their trust in you is justified by referring them to Diamond Home Inspectors. Our experience, training and professionalism will deliver the information your clients need. The best advertising is a happy client!

Your clients turn to you for advice during many stages of the home buying and selling process. In particular, many clients look for guidance in hiring a home inspector. When you recommend a certified InterNACHI inspector, you can be sure that your client will receive excellent service from a qualified inspector. All InterNACHI inspectors must meet stringent membership requirements and adhere to the InterNACHI Standards of Practice and Code of Ethics.

At Diamond Home Inspectors, our approach is to work with members of the real estate community whose goals align with ours—to provide homebuyers and sellers with important information about the physical condition of the property, provided in a clear, balanced format that is neither alarming nor sugarcoated. The benefits of this approach include long-term relationships, revenue growth, enhanced credibility, professional respect, reduced liability, and the simple but rich satisfaction that comes from focusing on doing the best job possible for your clients.

The relationships that succeed are the ones in which everyone wins. When the home inspector and real estate professional work together to provide clients with the information needed to make great decisions about their home, it is good for all the parties. Home inspectors do more work; real estate professionals reduce their liability, have more satisfied clients and thus more referrals; and clients get the information they need to make informed decisions.

Our Pre-Listing Home Inspection has been designed especially for you by a real estate professional just like you! Having an inspection completed prior to listing a home will change the way you do business.
