SEASONAL DRIVING TOURS IN THE CAPAY VALLEY

On a spring drive, be on the lookout for Hawks, Curlews and Ibis, and listen for the Western Meadowlarks' sweet song across the fields and meadows. Farmers will be tending to almonds crops, harvesting hayfields, and planting tomatoes. By March, the Redbud will turn the valley a brilliant magenta, followed by a myriad of wildflowers. Don't miss the annual Mothers' Day Garden Tour.

A summer drive will be filled with the squawk of Brewer's black birds and Red-winged black birds. You may see the magical display of Starlings with their synchronized swarm-dance over the fields. Farmers are busy harvesting melons, tomatoes, beans, stone fruit and sunflowers. Walnuts and almonds are maturing on their trees. Celebrate the tomato harvest at Capay Organic's Capay Tomato Festival.

On a fall drive, you can see Mountain Bluebirds, winged sapphires dotting the barbed-wire fence-lines. Overhead will be the longing cry of Canada Geese in V-formation. With fall settling in, farmers harvest walnuts and almonds, winter squash, pumpkins, persimmons and pomegranates, with leafy greens in the fields. Come to the annual Hoes Down Harvest Festival for old fashioned family fun!

A winter drive will treat you to the sweet song of the Western Meadowlark as Golden Eagles and Red-tailed Hawks are soaring overhead, hunting for Cottontails and Jackrabbits in the fields. Enjoy the white and pink almond blossoms during Black History Day the second Saturday, and the Almond Festival the last Sunday of February. Winter rains begin to green the hills.
