

2020 Anthology Call for Submissions

Members of North State Writers, or any of the NorCal chapters of the California Writers Club, are invited to submit up to three short stories, poems, and/or creative non-fiction pieces for consideration for publication in the North State Writers 2020 anthology.

1. Dust off that piece that you love, but have never shared. We all have a baby, a story that is dear to our hearts. Let's see it.

2. Look at the three pictures below and pick one or two to write about.

3. Have you ever heard of the book, "How it feels to be attacked by a Shark"? It is a book of short stories. The individual authors tell of some harrowing or life-changing experience. So, if you have had a similar experience, write about it and share it with us. You can get the book on Amazon, but it isn't necessary.
