CHAIRMAN'S CORNER – Jim O'Connor

CHAIRMAN'S CORNER – Jim O'Connor

We want to thank all those who invested their time, talent and treasure in the process of self-governance, through your engagement during the recent City of Scottsdale Bond Election. We extend a special thanks to Guy Phillips, the one and only vote against the bond issue on the City Council. His leadership together with that of the Arizona Republican Assembly, under the direction of Chapter President, Ardith Hildebrant and her team, lead to the defeat of 4 of the 6 bond questions on the ballot. This resulted in only $28.85 million of the proposed $95.96 million bond issue being approved by voters. This saves Scottsdale taxpayers $67,110,000. Plus interest!

This victory stands as another example that “we the people,” when engaging in the control of our government, can and in fact do make the difference.

Voter turnout was an all time low of approximately 21.33% of registered City voters. Had this vote been included on next year's November General Election ballot, we could have reasonably expected voter turnout approaching 83% which Scottsdale experienced in the November, 2012 general election.

The 75 of you who attended one of the four information sessions on the controversial National Popular Vote are also to be commended for investing your time to learn the history of our Electoral College and those forces which from time to time challenge our thinking with temptations to abandon it. Participation by so many in the vigorous discussions was encouraging to experience. Republicans can disagree with each other without burning our house down.

We look forward to a busy November:

HAPPENING IN SCOTTSDALE - Guy Phillips

First and foremost – Happy Thanksgiving!

As we enter the holidays I would like to keep this newsletter cheery and full of good will. Alas, being on the City Council, that just can't be done. Too many issues coming up that get in the way of merriment.

This year's Rainbow Turkey Award goes to The Scottsdale Cultural Council for agendizing a request on the Nov 10th council meeting, asking us to give them over $2 million of your tax dollars above and beyond the $4.3 million we give them every year, for "critical" facility and equipment upgrades, including facility maintenance and landscaping. This after council asked you to bond your property for $95 million because we don't have the money in the General fund! (at the time of this writing the bond election hasn't happened yet) Let's see if council will facilitate their request.

Then, on November 17, council will have yet another study session to entertain the idea of an LGBT (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender) ordinance. As you may know, the last time we did this Mayor Lane came up with the idea of a Unity Pledge that was supposed to go out to local businesses. Staff then proceeded to send it out in the utility statement to the entire city. This caused a major uproar as most folks who emailed the council were not happy that the city wanted them to pledge their unity with the LGBT community. I would like to state here again that it was supposed to go out to local businesses only, as this does not pertain to the public, albeit the consequences of an ordinance certainly will.

After that, some council members got together and decided they could come up with an ordinance that works for everyone, so they got the votes (Lane and myself dissenting) to direct staff to wander out into the netherlands of Metro Phoenix and see what they could come up with. This will be what we will be discussing on the 17th.

I will state here that whatever the outcome I will not be voting for any ordinance that creates undue strain on local businesses.

For example, does a woman have a right to enter into a women's public bathroom without a man being in there? How do you know if he's a transexual, a transgender, a cross-dresser, or a pervert? If a man gets up and goes into the womans bathroom, can restaurant staff stop him? Would that be discrimination?? Is this really an issue in Scottsdale???

Of course, staff may come back to us and say that an ordinance is simply not needed but don't hold your breath! Even if they do, certain council members will still force a vote to create an ordinance under the guise of "consensus". Write your council and tell them how you feel!

Enjoy your Turkey and God Bless America!
Guy Phillips
Scottsdale City Council

FIRST VICE CHAIRMAN – Nancy Ordowski

The month of October was busy for those of us walking precincts and talking with voters about the Scottsdale Bond. As usual it is amazing how many voters knew nothing about the election on November 3. They were interested and receptive to the information we had to share with them. I hope by the time you read this report we will know that the PC's hard work paid off and the bond was defeated.

This experience reminded me how much work we will have to do in 2016 to reach the voters for the primary and general election. Know that your Board, Area Directors and Captains are here to support you as we begin the work to win the 2016 election.

If you had your picture taken at the October District meeting we hope to have the badges available for you to pick up at the November 12 meeting. Plan to attend as we always need to keep educating ourselves, so we have the tools to talk to the voters.

You can always reach me at ncordowski@gmail.com or 480-203-5278.

SECOND VICE CHAIRMAN - Rich Rutkowski

Our November 12 general meeting will be held in Fountain Hills, at the Fountain Hills Unified School District Learning Center (the same place we met in May). The Center's address is 16000 East Palisades Blvd, at the NE corner of Palisades and Golden Eagle Boulevards. For those of you living in Scottsdale, take Shea to Palisades, then to just past Golden Eagle. If you need directions, please check the map link on the home page of the web site, www.ld23gop.org. Our main event for the evening will be a Candidates' Forum for the Republicans vying for the 2016 US Senate nomination. An Invitations were extended to: Senator John McCain, State Senator Kelli Ward, Alex Meluskey, and Clair Van Steenwyck. As of the date of this writing, Meluskey and Van Steenwyck have confirmed that they will attend. Senator McCain is expected to be in Washington, D.C. The format will include opening comments from each candidate, questions (which will be answered by all candidates), and closing comments. Also, each candidate will be afforded the opportunity to ask the other candidates a question and to ask (& answer) a question of the candidates who are not present at the forum. Please bring your questions, but keep them pithy and avoid giving a long dissertation before stating your question. The idea is to address as many questions and issues as possible.

Please visit the web site, www.ld23gop.org, on a regular basis to keep apprised of the specifics for our meetings, news about other events, and additional information.

CHAIRMAN EMERITUS - Joe Meli

"Contrary to popular belief"

This simple phrase has never had as much relevance as it does now. "Contrary to popular belief" encompasses almost every policy initiative the left can conceive. To those who yearn for "social justice", there is no need to concern themselves with facts or rational thought. Rather, one simply "perceives" an impending evil or injustice and takes action to make certain there is a law or regulation to anticipate it. Paraphrasing an elected official who recently opined about a controversial ordinance being monolithically moved through one of our Legislative District's municipal government bodies: "This is a solution searching for a problem".

Contrary to popular belief, the majority of your elected officials in our municipal, county, state and federal government bodies do NOT listen to or care about what you think or want. From their perspective, you are an unfortunate necessity in that every two, four or six years they have to pretend they care about what you want and then speak earnestly about it whilst lambasting their competitors who don't quite see it the same way.

We are, of course, a nation that is a federal republic. Most folks have no idea what that means. They mistakenly believe we are a simple democracy, which our Framers knew was a form of government that had historically failed.

However, there were as keen to reject a ruling class; one that might impose its minority opinions and values on others. We are ideally, by virtue of the Constitution, a form of government that seeks to operate in the calm and deliberative manner of learned citizens called to serve in elected office not carry out personal agendas, but rather to serve the good of the community and the nation as a whole. Sadly, we live in a time where elected officials serve mostly themselves or their pet agendas. Look closely at ordinances proposed or passed by city councils or state legislatures in the face of either massive citizen opposition or without any rational necessity for them. (Obamacare comes to mind.)

Contrary to popular belief, the Civil Rights Act (1964) was supposed to prevent discrimination on many levels, not just race discrimination. It was envisioned broadly as such. It was to remedy clear and present abuses of citizens based on actual, not "perceived" discrimination. It was not intended to narrowly apply to just one problem or set of problems. Yet today, under the guise of "social justice", certain elected officials seek to overlay on this legislation their personal affiliations to encompass their narrowly held beliefs and agendas. It is, as the Framers had warned us about, "tyranny of the minority."

My fellow precinct committee members, we are awash in the narrow and special interests of elected officials that most of us would never imagine. Since they rely on citizens not participating in the legislative process, they mostly act upon either their own personal agendas or the agendas of those who have lobbied them and paid for their campaigns. We use the term "establishment" to refer to these folks. If the current election cycle is showing us anything, it is that we are in an adversarial relationship with most of our elected officials. There are exceptions, not every elected official falls in this category. We continue to support and encourage those who act on principle, few of them as there are.

Contrary to popular belief, we do matter and make a difference in the way our government does its business. As PCs we must take the message out to our fellow citizens that our government exists to serve the people, not as either a personal playground for the political class to see their pet agendas served or the closed-off ideological fortress that demands compliance but acts well beyond its authority and without accountability.

Those who currently hold elected office may be losing sleep over this disturbing trend of citizens rejecting the establishment's status quo. Contrary to popular belief, that is what we want!
