DJ Connor Kilgore

DJ Connor grew up in Reading, Pennsylvania and moved to South Carolina to continue his education at Coastal Carolina University, home of the Chanticleers where he currently studies Political Science.

In early 2014 Connor was recruited by DJ Mike and started immediately working & training alongside DJ Scott. His eagerness and readiness to learn has helped him excel in just a short amount of time and Connor's been loving every second of it! He is quickly establishing himself as a force in the company of great DJ's. Connor's energetic style can fit any special occasion and he is sure to keep your guests moving, happy, and out on the dance floor all night. If you are looking for a DJ with a winning personality who provides non-stop fun then look no further than DJ Connor!

“Connor’s music selection and song choices on the fly can rival any veteran DJ. His picks come out of no where and they are always spot on.” said DJ Scott.

When Connor isn't DJing or hitting the books, you can find him listening to music – always looking to expand his knowledge, playing sports with his friends or in the gym toning up. Connor's confident, go getting attitude fits extremely well alongside DJ's Scott & Mike in their efforts to make your night unforgettable!
