

Do you know what your dental practice is worth?

Now might be THE RIGHT TIME to sell! Find out with a FREE Practice Valuation.

Dear John,

Have you thought about selling your dental practice? Maybe you want to transition soon...or perhaps in a few years. But how can you get maximum value? And how can you be sure your patients and staff will be left in good hands?

Encompass Integrated Healthcare Consultants is led by professional dentists and practice owners who know just how hard you've worked to build a successful practice. We're connected to many qualified dentists, entrepreneurs, and graduating students looking to start or grow their own practices. We may have the perfect buyer for your practice already.

Encompass IHC offers a confidential, full-service approach to remove any hassle and ensure a smooth transition. Here's what to expect when you choose Encompass:

- FREE comprehensive valuation to determine a competitive, appropriate asking price for your practice.
- Broad exposure to a range of buyers so you can get top dollar for your practice. We use a combination of modern and traditional advertising techniques to reach qualified buyers.
- Selling assistance. Don't worry about finding your own lawyers, accountants, and marketers. Encompass is your one-stop solution for every step of the transition.
- Confidentiality. To help you retain your staff and patients, we maintain the utmost confidentiality until you're ready to announce your transition.
- Legacy resources. To ensure your practice—and your legacy—continue successfully after your transition, Encompass offers resources and advice to help your buyer thrive. You may even have the option of continuing to work a few days a week.

Whether you're currently looking to sell or thinking about making a change in the future, contact us for your FREE Practice Valuation to help guide your decision. Reach out to me at <EMAIL> or (919) 395-0444 to get started today.

Sincerely,

Dr. Kyle Roth, D.D.S.
