OUR MISSION

We exist to inspire craft beer drinkers to become brewers by providing an easy to use kit with the best equipment and finest quality ingredients.

As a lover of craft beer, I have become increasingly obsessed with discovering new and interesting styles of beer. I first began brewing beer in college with my best friends and found the brewing kits on the market were either too expensive or made with poor quality ingredients and equipment. In my relentless pursuit of learning about great beer I spent years studying ingredients, brewing methods and the tools needed for someone to be able to create the highest quality craft beer in their own kitchen. The culmination of all of those years of testing and refining led me to create the Craft A Brew recipes and brewing kits. I firmly believe that the top of the line equipment and finest quality fresh ingredients that go into every kit are second to none. In my pursuit of the perfect beer I have realized my true passion is to create the means for everyone to brew their perfect beer.
