Sunday

Jesus said to them, "Very Truly, I tell you, I am the gate for the sheep. All who came before me are thieves and bandits; but the sheep did not listen to them. I am the gate. Whoever enters by me will be saved, and will come in and go out and find pasture."

I am starting a group study, using the communication platform Zoom, of a classic book on prayer and the spiritual life "The Interior Castle" by St. Teresa of Avila.

I thought we may start with an introduction to this incredible Doctor of the Church, her life as a Carmelite nun, the historical times significantly being Spain during the Inquisition, and the structure of the book. Each week we will do a chapter and enter ever more deeply into our relationship with God. Should this interest you, please email me at johnston.angus09@gmail.com.

Prayers of the Faithful

For the church, seeking to hear and heed the voice of the shepherd who calls us to unity.

We pray.

For victims of war and violence, especially refugees, women and children.

We pray.

For those who take risks to attend to the needs of others.

We pray.

For governments and health care officials as they work to lead us safely through this pandemic.

We pray.

For all those patiently waiting to celebrate initiation sacraments.

We pray.

For all the sick; for those who have died, and to all who mourn the loss of a loved one.

We pray.

A Prayer for Vocations

God our Father, You made each of us to use our gifts in the Body of Christ.

We ask that You inspire young people whom You call to the priesthood and consecrated life to courageously follow Your will.

Send workers into Your great harvest
so that the Gospel is preached,
the poor are served with love,
the suffering are comforted,
and Your people are strengthened
by the sacraments.

We ask this through Christ our Lord.

Amen

World Day Of Prayer For Vocations May 3rd

The fourth Sunday of Easter, Christians are invited to reflect on the meaning of God's call and to pray for vocations. Christ, the Good Shepherd, continues to lead his people through His Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, and calls many to follow Him in this way. Priestly, diaconal, and religious vocations should be a constant concern in the hearts of God's people.

Exploring our Faith

YOU CAN DO IT!

Our faith, based on the gospel reading for this Sunday, tells us that God does not love the world in some big, bland, generic way. God's love is particular and concrete. Love that is not concrete is not love at all. Love is about this particular young man (not all men) whose addiction is costing our family dearly. Love considers this particular woman (not all women) who just became a widow. Love takes into account this particular guy, (not all guys) who right now is going through a mid-life crisis. Love is for this particular teenager (not all teenagers) who does not want to go to school today because she knows she will be bullied. God, can and does, love the whole world, while loving each of us in our uniqueness and particularity.

The good shepherd, the earthly image of our benevolent God, exercises a love for his sheep that is particular and concrete. It says, "he calls his own sheep by name" (Jn. 10:3). There is something wonderful about being called by our name rather than just, "Hey, you." I think it has something to do with the fact that someone made an effort to see us less as a number and more as the unique person that we are. The first person to encounter the Lord Jesus after his resurrection was Mary Magdalene. However, she only realized he was not the gardener after he said her name, "Mary!" (Jn. 20:16). Jesus was buried in a garden tomb. In the scriptures, gardens are not for growing cucumbers and radishes; gardens are for lovers (the archetype of the Lover). Love itself, Jesus, was calling the beloved, Mary. That is, by the way, how each of us will be summoned to eternal life at the end of our earthly lives—by our name.

I think the Good Shepherd does more than just call us by name. Jesus also helps us, like a good teacher, to reach our potential. You who are or were school teachers know this. If a student had the potential to achieve a 75% average, and you as the teacher helped her/him to do that, you were acting as the Good Shepherd. You cared for each child and wanted each child to reach their potential. It was not about your reputation as a teacher; it was about this particular child reaching his/her potential.

I heard Lou Holtz (the most successful coach in U.S. college football) say to us at a stewardship conference, "People don't care how much you know, until they know how much you care." How true! Here is a little story from Fr. William Bausch about caring enough to help someone reach their potential: There was an old Navaho Indian sheep farmer whose neighbour's dogs were always killing his sheep. As he saw it, he had three options. One, in true American tradition, he could sue; he could bring a lawyer and take his neighbour to court. His second option was to build a stronger and higher fence so his neighbour's dogs could not get in. But he took a third option. He gave two lambs to his neighbour's children. In due time the lambs grew into sheep and had other sheep, and then the neighbour and his children got to see the sheep not as an impersonal herd, but as something warm and fuzzy, something personal with individual traits and a history and names. They soon penned in their dogs.

The Navaho farmer believed in his neighbour's potential for self-control, compassion, decency, and fairness. It was always there, but it took another to bring it out. Good shepherds always move us forward with the words, "You can do it!"

Fr. Phil

Prayers with children

Hold my hand, God,
lead the way,
Help me be good every day.
Let me know what's wrong and right,
Keep me safe day and night,
Let me know what you have planned,
Lead the way God,
hold my hand.
Amen

*Celebrate Mary
in May*

Got your taxes done? There is so much time, so much opportunity to do the things we always felt we would catch up on if we only had the time. If you are anything like me, time seems to still slip through my fingers at an alarming rate and am not significantly further ahead.

Let us not let the merry month of May, the merry month of Mary slip by without entering deeper into the loving embrace of our Blessed Mother. She will in turn bring us closer to the ultimate relationship with Her Son, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Each day I will offer a reflection based on the writings St. John Henry Cardinal Newman from a collection of his writings entitled Meditations on Mary, Our Mother.

Mary played a significant part in the journey of this blessed Saint from Anglicanism to the Roman Catholic faith. The brilliance of this man's mind will help us focus on our own journey towards God. Fear not that it will be complicated as we will journey with our loving Mother as our guide.

Each day I will offer a reflection posted to our Diocesan website and our own Queen of All Saints website, with an invitation to join me afterward to say the Rosary.

I hope you will join St. John Henry Cardinal Newman and myself for our Month of Mary.

Fr. Angus
