RESTAURANTS & HOSPITALITY

The hospitality industry represents a broad array of businesses that share important commonalities. Running a successful restaurant business can be overwhelming in the recent economic crisis considering the complexity of tax and labor law regulations. Our Certified Public Accountants are intimately familiar with up to date tax laws specifically to the restaurant and hotel industry. Because we are very knowledgeable in this industry, and are dedicated to regularly educating ourselves on industry trends, our services will help clients mitigate their tax burden and improve their bottom line.

Mastakouris & Company CPA's P.C. has strong roots serving the Restaurant, Hotel and Hospitality industry. We work with clients throughout the New York-New Jersey Metropolitan area. Our CPA's proudly boast that they have actively worked in the restaurant and hotel industry and have "hands on" experience.

We work with our hospitality clients to analyze industry trends and to monitor their costs. Using our broad hospitality experience, we work with our clients to focus on benchmarks and determine whether they are in line with industry norms. If they are not, we then work with them to achieve those objectives. We assist our clients from the very beginning with due diligence and facilitating financing through ongoing business operations and property improvement plans. We also help them meet government regulations and other regulatory requirements.

Our professionals have years of experience serving this niche – providing services to clients that range from fine dining establishments and catering to fast food and fast casual concepts and diners.
