

Please be aware that space is limited. Application deadline is January 31, 2021.

We are cautiously optimistic that we will be able to get all the fantastic Artists and Makers together on Seminary Ave this Spring. That being said, we cannot predict what the situation will look like in May. We are keeping in close contact with the Hopewell Borough Administrator regarding the town's COVID-19 guidelines. We are planning for the show to go on, but we will not know how the pandemic has evolved until closer to the date of the show.

Due to this uncertainty, we are doing things a little differently this year. There will be a $10 non-refundable application fee due upon submission of your application. This will allow us to keep the behind-the-scenes operations running and start promoting the show. If accepted to the show, an additional $75 booth fee will be due March 28th. We must receive the booth fee by the deadline to secure your spot in the show.

We hope this will help alleviate refund issues in the event the show must be cancelled due to COVID-related reasons. We are crossing our fingers and we look forward to receiving your applications! Here's to another fabulous year of Handmade Hopewell.

WHAT:

This event is juried, featuring fine arts and craft. Also exhibiting will be artisans who handcraft consumable products such as tea, honey, jam, soap and similar products. Not accepted are items embellished or made from commercially available kits, plans, patterns, imports, factory-made or assembled items. In the effort to provide a diverse and balanced show, some categories may be more competitive than others. Please visit our website, Facebook or Instagram to get a good sense of the type of show we strive to create.

WHO:

One does not have to be a resident of Hopewell to apply. We encourage Makers from both near and far to join us! One does have to be present in order to sell, so please do not send anyone in your place. Artisans making consumable packaged products will be accepted, food vendors will not. New and emerging artists are encouraged to apply!
