SERIAL Automation LLC

Shawn Thorn, founder of Serial Automation LLC, specializes in design and programming services - most notably AMX control systems.

Shawn began working in the Audio/Video industry in 1994. Shawn quickly realized that his computer programming background, acquired while serving in the United States Air Force, was a great match with the automation side of the AV industry.

Shawn's first AMX certificate was achieved in 1998. Since that time, Shawn has continued with training and currently holds AMX's highest level of certification, Solutions Master.

Shawn has designed and programmed systems for the following markets:

- Government
- Military & Defense
- Educational
- Corporate
- Residential
