

Glimpses of the Illinois Sustainable Energy Summit

March 6, 2014; Chicago

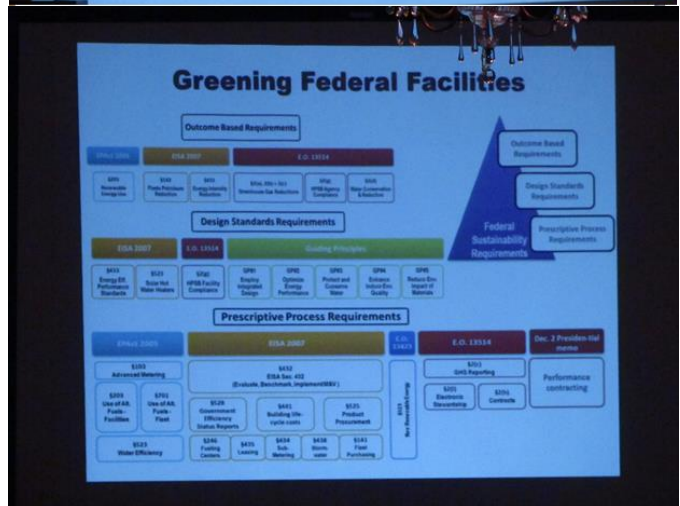

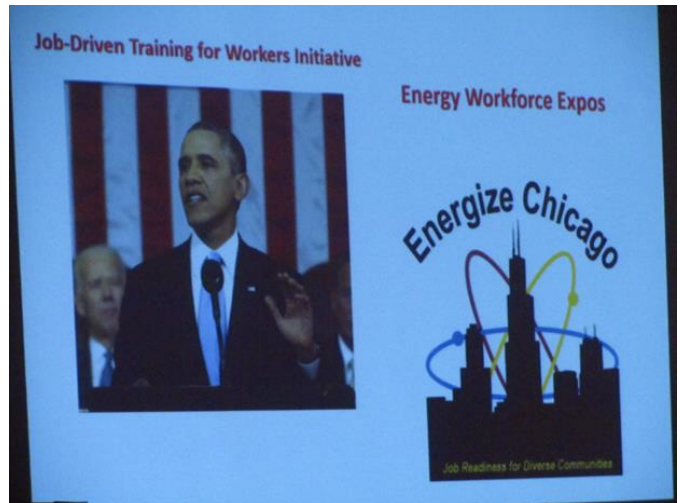

ILLINOIS SUSTAINABLE ENERGY SUMMIT 2014

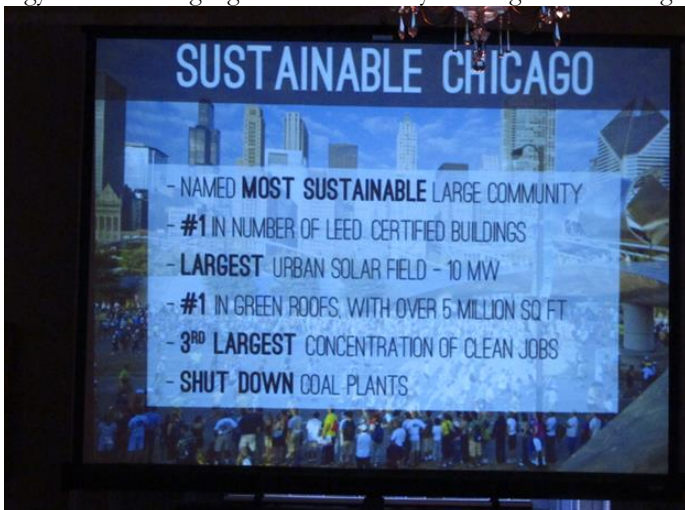

Sponsored by:

Invenergy

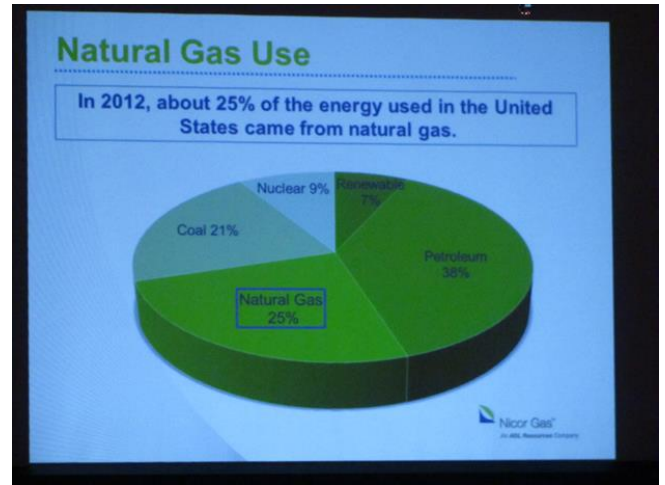

Mr. Antonio Riley (left), Mid-west Regional Administrator of the US Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Ms. Deborah Stone (right), Chief Sustainability Officer, Cook County in Illinois. Mr. Riley shared HUD’s priorities related to energy conservation and use of sustainable energy. Ms. Stone highlighted Cook County’s strategies to reducing GHG emissions from building use in the county.

Ms. Karen Weigert, Chief Sustainability Officer, City of Chicago highlighted how the city, under the leadership of Mayor Rahm Emanuel, is committed to making Chicago a healthier, more livable and more prosperous city by 2015. Energy efficiency and clean energy is one of the seven strategic sustainability areas for the city.

Glimpses of the Illinois Sustainable Energy Summit

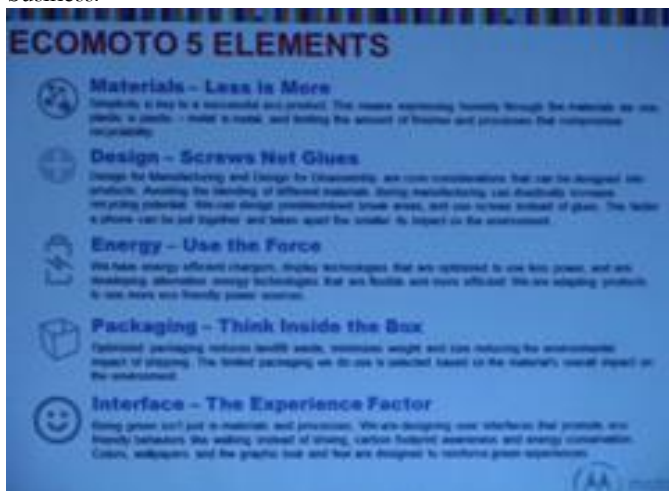

March 6, 2014; Chicago

Mr. Joel Spenadel, Executive Director-Energy Investments, JP Morgan shed light on the financial opportunities and constraints of developing renewable power infrastructure.

Mr. Craig Gordon, Vice President, Sales & Marketing, Invenery, spoke on the opportunities and challenges of growing a clean energy business.

Dr. Bill Olson, Director, Product Sustainability at Motorola Mobility spoke on Sustainable Electronics. He shared Motorola's Ecomoto Principle and emphasized the company's commitment to developing sustainable electronic products that have low carbon and environmental footprints.

Glimpses of the Illinois Sustainable Energy Summit

March 6, 2014; Chicago

Ms. Jody TallBear-Cabrera, Strategic Initiatives and Policy Advisor at the US Department of Energy (DoE) emphasized the need for participation of minorities and tribal communities in policies, programs and activities that stimulate creation of a sustainable energy economy. Engagement of minorities and tribal communities is of strategic significance to the US DoE.

Dr. Ron Meissen (left), Senior Director of Sustainability, Baxter International spoke on GHG emission reduction strategies, and how Baxter is lowering its carbon footprint. Baxter was recognized as the greenest healthcare company in the US in the 2012 Newsweek Green Ranking. Mr. Bob Best (second from right), Executive Vice President, Jones Lang LaSalle highlighted how energy innovations are impacting real estate management practices.

Mr. Eric Pettersen (left), Director, Supply Chain Engagement and Sustainability, Dover Corporation shared his company's sustainable energy management strategies. Ms. Audrie Washington (right), Regional Manager, Energy Star Program at the US Environmental Protection Agency spoke on the Energy Star Program and how companies can use the Program to build a sustainable brand.