SANDY GROSS

Take the Challenge!

Not just a Study... A Challenge!

- Are we living fully authentic and transparent lives or do we use our faith to mask who we really are?
- Have we been transformed from the inside out or are we just keeping-up appearances?
- Have we done the work of wellness or have we brushed our 'issues' under the rug?
- Have we tapped into our God Given Potential or are we tapped-out trying to live our Christian lives?

Many Christians are waking-up to discover that they are not really living the Renewed Life that Jesus Christ came to offer them. Instead they are living exhausted, isolated, and alone trying to hide their weaknesses and to cover-up their own personal brokenness and pain. Finally there is a practical and highly relevant study that will not only help to reveal the brokenness that many Christians are facing, but to provide the tools they need to tear down their-false beliefs and rebuild a healthy and whole life in Christ. This study is designed to help those Christians understand who they really are In Christ, to take-back their God Given Identities, and to embrace their God Given Potential.

If you are ready to live a fully authentic, Christ centered, and abundant life, Sandy invites you to join with other like-minded believers on a life-changing journey toward fullness in Christ. This 70 Day Bible Study Challenge is sure to deepen the dynamics within your small group community while empowering its participants to become who God created them to be.

Is this challenge right for you?

As a teacher, Sandy has a diverse background to draw upon. She has served in ministry as a youth director, urban outreach minister, and women's teacher and conference speaker. She is also an accomplished business and community leader who has helped to found organizations such as Metro Leadership Foundation and the Institute for Christian Psychology. She is a committed wife, mother of two adult children, and a very proud grandmother.

In 2012, Sandy and her husband Mike agreed by faith that she would give-up a successful career in Corporate America to pursue her passion for serving others through full-time ministry. As a result, the You Are Potential Bible study and Renewing Me Ministries were born.
