

NUTTEE BEAN CO.™

Simply Favalicious!.. A Healthy Snack For All

ABOUT US

I am Frank Guido, founder of Nuttee Bean company. This has been a process of development for 3 years. We manufacture a whole roasted broad bean also known as fava bean. We are the only manufacturer of a whole roasted fava bean in the U.S.

Nuttee Bean are hand selected, and quickly roasted in small batches, getting a crunchy texture, crunchy like a nut, looks like a nut but it's a bean. Currently available in 3 flavors: Salt & Vinegar, Spicy, and Wasabi & Ginger. Simple, not processed. All natural including flavors, no additives, no junk!! Everything you need nothing you don't. The best part it tastes great!

What differentiates us from the market? We are completely Non-Allergenic. Not only gluten and wheat but we cover the top 11 allergens, peanuts, tree nuts, etc. We produce a POWER SNACK, packed with 14 grams of protein and high in a few fundamental minerals: the highest is iron, but also zinc and manganese.

We are Allergy Safe. We simply wanted to supply a product that is good for everybody.

There is a story about how and why I chose to bring this product to the U.S. market. I had a small manufacturing company for 17 years selling custom doors to Home Depot. In my travels, I saw this bean used as a snack in many different countries in multiple forms. I decided in 2012 to do some research and found that the qualities of this bean are unparalleled. The plant, after it grows these beautiful bean pods, actually fixes the earth by adding more nitrogen into the soil than any other plant. The perfect cycle of the plant. So super eco-friendly, and the rest is history.

It is not a well-known bean in the U.S. as is the garbanzo bean or chickpea, but we have a superior flavor, texture and look that makes it a premium product.

I have formed a fantastic global team, poised for success and hoping to navigate the market for sales and new digital marketing as well as chime in on retooling of packaging. We listened and upped the flavor profiles, and now working on new flavors, packaging, and prepared to relaunch.
