

COLOR ME PRETTY

Not everyone thinks the way you think, knows the things you know, believes the things you believe, nor acts the way you would act. Remember this and you will go a long way in getting along with people.

This bulletin has been made possible by the businesses who appear on this page. If you have the opportunity, you may thank them in the name of our parish by using their products.

ATTENTION!!!!

Any information that you would like for us to include in the bulletin should be submitted in writing by Wednesdays at noon to the Parish Office, or can also be e-mailed to: info@ologp.org. Please note, information submitted electronically still needs to be approved by Parish Staff! Thank you!

OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE PARISH

Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

"Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God."

Theme: The God of History

The theme of "Fiddler on the Roof" is: "Play your little tune in life, but keep your balance and do not break your neck!" This is not always easy for Christians who are citizens of two cities: the earthly one (for example, the United States) and the heavenly one (the Church). We favor separation of the two, but there are areas that overlap. Christians are supposed to be good citizens, pay their taxes, exercise their voting rights, They must love their country, though in certain periods of national history politicians and leaders may turn out to be corrupt. As in all institutions, not even excluding the Church, the human element will always be there. Christians should be concerned about the culture and social well-being of their community.

Today's Bible reading clearly pay tribute to the God of history. God makes use of an evil emperor (in Jesus' time, the Roman Caesar!) as well as a good one (Cyrus, who freed the Jewish exiles in Babylon). We should recognize the God of history in both. "Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God" (Gospel). The state has his own sphere in promoting communal welfare and in maintaining law and order, but always under God to whom it is responsible. If it over-steps the mark, a Christian is absolved of obedience. We must obey God rather than humans. (Think of social justice, right to life, just war.) Pray for guidance to keep your balance.

MASS READINGS

October 22, 2017

REFLECTION

1st Reading Ex 22:20-26

[Kindness to Others]

This passage introduces and concretizes Jesus' statement in the Gospel that it is love of God and neighbor on which the whole law is based. Love of God and neighbor should not be abstract, vague, and lacking in precision. Aestheticism and vague statements on love do not do much good for the poor, the stranger, the widow, the orphan. Christians who isolate themselves and their churches in comfortable exclusive neighborhoods must heed

The Responsorial Psalm is a beautiful song, but it needs to be applied to practical concern for the deprived of our society.

2nd Reading 1Thes 1:5c-10

[Imitating Christ]

Paul has reason to praise the congregation of Thessalonica: "You became a model for all believers." "From you the word of the Lord has sounded forth."

Can this be said of your congregation and you? Does your parish council have a committee on charity and social concern (First Reading and Gospel)? Is it active? If not a member, you are a constituent and should find out. Does God's word echo forth from your parish resoundingly to the inner city of your municipality?
