BOUNCE

building a barrier busting culture

Are you running into productivity barriers? Are you finding it increasingly difficult to move your organization forward? Often, we pour our energy and resources into developing strategies and initiatives that promise to get us past plateaus, only to find ourselves falling back into the same ruts time and again. What we often overlook are the potential cultural issues that may be sabotaging our best-laid plans.

In this interactive training, Tom Toney will introduce the concepts of the BOUNCE mentality and help you and your team begin building a Barrier-Busting culture. Whether you are looking to inspire your team to get beyond a stubborn obstacle, establish a shift in the thinking of your organization or develop a plan for moving forward, we can help get you where you want to go.

This interactive can be designed to accommodate 5 to 500 and span two hours to an entire day of training. The measurables will also be built around the outcome you desire.

ALIGN

Does it seem like your organization or team is not in sync? Are internal issues causing you to miss opportunities? Does it seem like you are not operating at full capacity? You may be in need of an alignment.

In this innovative interactive, Tom Toney will introduce your organization to the importance and power of Alignment. By demonstrating the full potential of a team when it aligns with the established mission, strategy and processes, Tom will help set the stage for bringing your team back into alignment for full power.

2, 4 and 8-hour interactives are available along with the opportunity to tailor each session toward your specific needs. Give us a call today and get your power back!

CLARITY

FROM MYSTERY TO SUCCESS.

Clarity, when lacking, can often be one of the greatest obstacles to effectiveness. Getting clear about your vision, directives and measurables can help your team and organization experience its greatest success!

In this energetic interactive, Tom Toney will introduce your organization to the importance and power of Clarity and how you can achieve and leverage Clarity for greater success. Whether you are looking to communicate a new mission, bring an existing assignment into focus, or help your team simply work more efficiently, this training can help you and your team get clear about your goals.
